The Editor's column

by S. R. PADDOCK

Members of the Piper Breakfast Club have tried all week to get us to admit that two way streets are more popular than the one-way. They point to the fact that no traffic cops have had to be on duty since the change-over.

We are going to settle the argument next Saturday by asking the opinion of the first 20 shoppers we meet. The percentage of their answers will be considered as conclusive.

Yes, Elmhurst did go back to two-way streets in spite of the police department, which told us that the business men ganged up on the city council. The Elmhurst police agree with Arlington police on the merits of the two systems.

Which? Ask one of the boys in uniform.

Until Sunday we thought that the modern church had become very much sophisticated; that the fire and brimstone heard from many a pulpit 40 and 50 years ago had gone with the last generation. We learned Sunday we were mistaken. We heard a pastor speak out against liquor and gambling.

He has the makings of a good editor because he admitted he had not consulted any of his constituents about the budget practicability of what he said.

We have always thought that ministers should be allowed to have a newspaper column in which they could say things that their constituents might not want to hear from the pulpit.

For several years, Rev. William O. McGill of Wheeling Presbyterian church has conducted such a column in Paddock Publications headed, "In the Shadow of the Steeple."

Last week he took the editor to task because of a paragraph in this column two weeks ago. We were happy to publish it.

Such reprimands are good medicine for any editor. Just because he goes to church every Sunday does not mean he is above criticism by a man of God.

We modestly acknowledge the Honorable Mention that the newspaper contest committee of the National Editorial Association awarded to this column at its annual convention in Baltimore last week.

There are many smarter editors than the one who writes this column. They were given first, second and third. We are perfectly satisfied with the honorable mention that came our way.

Residents of Arlington Heights have the opportunity to participate in a community 4th of July celebration in which there are no strings attached. Merle Guild Post, in letters mailed this week to all households, asks for contributions to the fireworks display which is costing them $1,000.

They are confident that there will be many dads and mothers who will gladly enclose a dollar bill or a larger check in the envelope provided.

The new law does not permit the sale of any fireworks this year. If the fireworks fund gets the money usually handed over by parents to their children for the customary firecrackers, Arlington Heights families will get all the "ah's" and "oh's" without danger of any burned or injured hands or eyes to the children.

Just because they are not able to hold the usual carnival this year, the Legion did not want to deprive the community of the fireworks show.

Many residents of Mount Prospect who reside in the southwest side of that town say there is more than one way of disturbing the peace. The sound of excavators at 7:20 Sunday morning disturbed their slumber and also broke the Sabbath day.

They are in hopes the police will prevent any repetition next Sunday. There may be no ordinance preventing machine operation on a Sunday, but that noise, in the opinion of the sleepy housewives, is certainly disturbing the peace of the community.

We can hear a lot of veteran smokers say, "it ain't so," in reference to a news release by the Cancer Society this week, which claims that a five year survey reveals the use of tobacco causes cancer.

There will probably not be many smokers who will have the will power to give up the weed.

We can see the tobacco companies using a lot of extra advertising in an effort to tell users that their particular brand is not as injurious as the other fellows.

Regardless of the actual cause of cancer by the use of tobacco, it cannot be denied that one out of every four smokers who take TB chest x-rays has evidence of lung cancer.

The Mobile X-ray unit will be at Mount Prospect June 30 and July 1 when both adults and children can have the x-ray test made without cost to them.

Legion To Hold July Fourth Festival; Prizes To Scouts 'Best In Parade'

A one-day Fourth of July community celebration, with an old time fireworks display and parade, will be held in Arlington Heights this year. This event is a new experiment by Merle Guild Post No. 208, American Legion, which is having the one-day event in place of its annual carnival.

The celebration is in charge of Arthur S. Nelson, chairman, and Harold Klingner, co-chairman, with C. L. Griffith serving as parade chairman.

Trude Youth Activity fund is offering $100 in prizes to be divided among the Boy and Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts and Brownie Scouts. The awards will be made to the troops within each group making the best showing in the parade.

JUDGING WILL be based on number of turnout (percentage wise), neatness of uniform and marching ability. Each troop is asked to carry a banner identifying the troop. The $100 will be split so that a $25 prize can be awarded to the winning troop in each of the four divisions. All entries should be made in advance by contacting Parade chairman Griffith, CLearbrook 3-2487.

Other parade highlights will include the prize winning drum and bugle corps of the George Giles Post, American Legion, Chicago, who will supply the marching music. This is an all negro corps. A military outfit from O'Hare field and a marine contingent from Glenview Naval air station will also participate in the parade.

Organizations and businessmen are urged to enter floats in the parade and those planning to do so are asked to check with Parade Marshal Griffith. Bikes, pets and babies may also be "dolled" up and entered in the parade.

The parade will assemble at 1 p.m. at the South school, with step-off promptly at 1:30 p.m. and the line of march ending at Recreation Park, where the Legion festival will be held.

THERE WILL be no speech making, except announcement of the winners in the "scout" contest. The committee is making no direct solicitation of special prizes, but interested persons who may desire to offer prizes for bicycle, pet or baby parade are asked to get in touch with Parade Chairman Griffith this week end.

The summer band, directed by Fredrick Schmoyer, music director at Arlington Heights high school, will give an evening concert preceding the $1,000 fireworks display. There will also be a swimming exhibition. The full program will be announced in next week's edition.

Public Invited To Home Bureau Benefit To Aid Bryngelson Fund

Mt. Prospect unit of Home Bureau invites the general public to the home freezer demonstration of the VFW clubhouse in Mt. Prospect June 29 at 1 p.m.

Miss Mary Lou Welschmeier, home economist of the International Harvester Co., will demonstrate the freezing of seasonal fruit and vegetables and how to make and freeze party foods in advance. Miss Welschmeier is both an entertaining and instructive speaker. There will be special attractions and refreshments will be served by Home Bureau members.

Admittance will be by voluntary donation at the door and all proceeds will go to Mrs. P. W. Bryngelson, polio victim, who was recently widowed by the sudden death of Rev. Bryngelson. The VFW has donated the use of its clubhouse for this event.

Mrs. Addie Kinzler, general chairman, discussed final preparations at the Bureau's June meeting at the home of Mrs. Roy Stolzman. Mrs. Kinzler also gave the Bureau lesson on Mental Health and Family Relationships.

Still Time To Register For YMCA Day Camp Program At Deer Grove

Boys and girls of the Northwest Suburban area can really enjoy themselves this summer in a camping program and still return home each evening.

The Northwest Suburban YMCA announced that they are still able to register boys and girls 7 to 12 years of age for two week Day Camp periods, beginning July 6. Many parents indicated that rumors had led them to believe that they would be unable to register their youngsters because the periods were already filled. However, this is not true and at present there are openings in all three two week periods.

THE DAY CAMP program will be conducted at a specially reserved site at Deer Grove (Northwest hwy. and Dundee rd.). The children registered will meet at one of four pick-up points Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday at a specified time in the morning. They will travel by chartered bus to Deer Grove for a day of camping and recreational activities under trained supervised leadership, and will return home each afternoon about 4:30 p.m.

All campers bring their lunch, towel and bathing suit each day. Milk, craft supplies, and other necessary materials are furnished. Swimming will be conducted each afternoon in the new, beautiful outdoor Dundee swimming pool.

THE YOUNGSTERS will be with well-trained professional program directors. Teachers from Des Plaines, Arlington Heights, and Chicago schools will serve on the staff, along with other leaders selected on the basis of character and ability. Camping adventure will be in operation, rain or shine. In the event it rains while at camp, programs will continue in a shelter and two buses or arrangements will be made immediately to take a trip to a museum, manufacturing plant or roller skating rink.

There will be three two week sessions—July 6 to July 16, July 20 to July 30, and August 3 to August 13. A nominal fee is charged to cover the cost of immediate expenses. Further information and program booklet may be secured from the Northwest Suburban YMCA, 1488 Miner st., Des Plaines, VA 4-4156.

Film Movie For John Deere Company In Arlington Heights

Excitement ran high in Arlington Heights Wednesday morning when Wilding Picture Production company of Chicago appeared here to shoot a movie for John Deere company.

The home of Miss Celia Hausam, 636 N. Dunton ave., was selected as the setting for the film, which is entitled "Miss Hattie." On location are such big name stars as Grace Fields, Lyle Talbot Franklin Pangborn, Minerva Urechal, Elmira Sessions and Billy Benedict.

"Miss Hattie" is a story about a music teacher who has to retire because of her age. Grace Fields, as Miss Hattie, is ready to sell all her belongings and go to the poor house for the rest of her life when she is rescued by the local Barbershop Quartet, and one of her star pupils who has become a big success and pays off her mortgage. Maine township high school chorus is also in the picture.

The movie, which is being filmed in Eastman color, will take about tree days to make. John Deere makes a feature picture each year, which is one of the highlights of its annual John Deere Day, which is given for the general public.

Lions Sign Lease With Railroad To Erect Bus Shelter In Park

Quentin Ford, president of the Arlington Heights Lions club, announced at the June 15 meeting that a lease had been signed by the Lions club and the North-Western railroad for a section of the railroad park on the southwest corner of Evergreen and Northwest hwy. to be used for a bus shelter.

The club has been negotiating with the railroad and bus company officials for many months, planning and designing the shelter. Blueprints and plans have been submitted to contractors and their bids are now being considered by the Lions committee in charge of this community project:

Crab orchard stone and face brick will be used in the construction of the shelter. It is hoped the structure will be completed by September 1.

Major Oil Company To Locate In Elk Grove If Rezoning Approved

A hearing to rezone 136 acres of land on the northeast corner of Oakton, Higgins and Busse rds., Elk Grove township, from farming to light industry, was held Friday night at Mount Prospect village hall. No decision has been given by the Cook county zoning board of appeals to date.

If the rezoning is approved a major oil distribution terminal will be located on the site. Mrs. Helen Robinson Will owns the property at present. Identity of the company has not been disclosed, but according to George Schaller, attorney for the firm, the company is prepared to buy the land if the rezoning is approved.

Schaller said extensive oil and gas storage facilities would be constructed at the site. Petroleum would be brought into the property through a pipeline. No refining facilities are planned.

Mass Meeting Friday To Discuss Rezoning For Low Cost Homes

Sub-Committees Appointed To Study High School Needs

The steering committee of the lay group studying Arlington Heights Township High School problems has completed the membership of the committees which will gather data of the various phases of the present and future operation of the high school.

N. M. Lattof in accepting the appointment of general chairman so well outlined the purpose of the committee that the group unanimously adopted the points he covered in his acceptance speech as being the thought and purpose of the group as a whole.

The majority of the general committee, each of whom has been assigned to one of the five subcommittees, were originally named to the committee by various civic groups. Six of them were members of the Committee of One Hundred which took such an active part in the recent election campaign which resulted in the defeat of the high school bond issue.

The committee members present Thursday evening agreed with Mr. Lattof in the problems facing the committee and the procedure to be followed in solving them. By the unanimous action of that committee, Lattof's statement that evening becomes a statement of the individual members who are giving their time and attention to matters that are of so great importance to the boys and girls of the high school district.

The statement of Mr. Lattof follows:

"This committee has come into being because we are faced with a problem that has no ready made solution. The unprecedented growth in the enrollment of our schools - which has been a common post war phenomenon - has forced on us the need for expanded facilities. The fact that our communities are among the fastest growing in the Chicago Suburban area, the high cost of living, and the increasing tax rates, serve to accentuate our problem.

"PUBLIC INTEREST in schools has become more essential than ever before. The support of tax payer, parent and citizen is today a must.

"Allow me to draw your attention to several points to which, I am sure, all of us will subscribe:

1. Membership on this committee does not imply that I or anyone else is "fronting" for any individual or group.
2. We face our problem with open minds. We have no preconceived notions and no prior commitments. We shall search for the facts and go where the facts lead us. That is the scientific approach. We all want the truth and no one need be afraid of the truth.
3. The communities we represent have a vital interest in our study. We want them to know the facts - all the facts - as we shall get to know them. Our meetings will be open to the public and we shall give adequate notice of the dates on which the meetings will be held.
4. The minutes of our meetings will also be open to the public. There will be no secrecy about any of our proceedings.
5. Our standing committees will want to hear all viewpoints before they make their recommendations. All information will be fairly and intelligently appraised.

"By accepting the invitation to serve on this committee, we express our interest in education and our willingness to serve our school in its need to solve its building problem.

"That is a great responsibility and also an equally great opportunity. That is good citizenship. That is patriotism. That is our duty to our boys and girls."

MR. LATTOF in accepting the chairmanship of the general committee said in part:

"First of all, permit me to express to you my deep appreciation for electing me your chairman. When I came to the first meeting of the committee, I expected to serve only as an observer. I did not seek an office as I can ill afford the time that the job will take and the hard work that it is bound to entail. The only reason for my acceptance of this assignment is my deep love for our boys and girls and my sincere appreciation of the need for education, especially in these troublesome times. I view the responsibility of this group as of tremendous importance to the communities which it represents."

'Fire, Health Hazard, Burden To School,' Say Elk Grove Residents

Elk Grove Protective association has called a mass meeting of all interested Elk Grove township residents this Friday at 8 p.m. in the Elk Grove school auditorium. Purpose of the meeting is to discuss the proposed re-zoning of 22 more acres of farm land for low cost residential use.

Already the county zoning board has recommended re-zoning to residential of 10 acres of farm land across the road on the south side of Higgins road about a half mile southwest of Oakton st. This re-zoning still has to be approved by the county board June 28. If approved, there will be 30 prefabricated homes built immediately.

Mt. Prospect elementary school board has petitioned the FHA to refuse loans to any further homes to be erected in that district because the school district cannot provide educational facilities for the children of additional families.

ACCORDING to the recent testimony of Otto Stephani, the builder, these will be two-bedroom homes to sell for $6,000. In order to achieve such amazingly low figure, the house will be built on a minimum size lot, and four houses will share one well. Houses will be raised off the ground on concrete piers. The land is stripped of almost all black dirt. The 700-square feet area houses will not have all inside work complete and will cost extra for such items as closet doors.

Clarence Hansen, president of the Elk Grove Protective association, states, "The objection of our group is not against homes being built in our community, but against ones that will have a harmful effect on all of us. These proposed homes will be a health and fire hazard. There still remains considerable question as to how the low lying area can properly support individual septic systems in the stripped 10-acre tract. Notice of percolation test was supposed to be given our attorney as agreed at the last public meeting; however, this was never done nor was our group notified of the zoning board's decision to recommend rezoning. There is a certain air of mystery to this decision, which we, as taxpayers in this area, have the right to have explained to us."

AT THE LAST public hearing, Alfred Landmeier, president of the fire protection district, pointed out that large numbers of such homes close together as in this project could easily have a fire in one home spread to others.

Dennis Malcolmson, school principal, testified as to the hardships of absorbing children from 250 homes in a short period. In addition to crowded conditions, there would be a tax burden due to lower assessed evaluation of these new homes. Elk Grove road commissioner also stated his hardships.

Elk Grove Township board has gone on record with a resolution opposing this development. In addition 150 property owners signed a petition opposing it.

President Hansen urges all local property owners to make this meeting Friday night a "must attend" as it will affect everyone in the township.

Wheeling Man, Daughter Killed In Accident

Fred H. Gierke, 58, of Milwaukee ave., Wheeling, and his daughter, Mrs. Ethel Wambach of Chicago, were killed and his wife, Minnie, and son-in-law, Albert Wambach, were injured last Saturday in an auto collision at routes 24 and 83, north of Burlington, Wis.

Mrs. Gierke is still in critical condition at the Burlington Memorial hospital, while Wambach has been moved to a hospital in Chicago. Funeral services for Mr. Gierke and his daughter were held in Chicago yesterday.

THE GIERKES and Wambachs were riding in a car driven by Albert Wambach enroute to a relative's home in East Troy, Wisconsin, to celebrate Mrs. Wambach's birthday, when they collided with a car driven by Mrs. Ruby Johnson of Warren, Wis., who also was killed, and the three persons riding with her were hospitalized in the Burlington hospital.

A helicopter pilot flying over the intersection saw the crash, landed in a nearby field and helped pull the victims from the wreckage. He resumed his flight to Chicago without disclosing his name.

Mr. and Mrs. Gierke have been residents of Wheeling for the past 11 years.

New Home of the Chevrolet Makes Its Official Bow

An open house this week end is the official bow of the new home of Lattof's Chevrolet Sales to the northwest communities. The new building on Northwest highway, Arlington Heights, has many outstanding features.

The sales volume since the new building has been in operation is conclusive proof that the large investment it entiled has been worthwhile.

The "Jewel Case" is the name that Mr. Lattof has given to the all-glass enclosed new car display room. He has found that it attracts the attention of many passersby, who stop, look, admire and buy.

The used car sales lot may not be enclosed in glass, but it has equal prominence with a place of honor for the best buy of the day. Customers are able to get away from the highway traffic lanes. There is special parking space on all sides of the building with an exceptionally large lot at the rear for cars awaiting repairs or service.

The building was planned in a manner that permits each department to be on its own which means efficiency and service that will be appreciated by customers.

THE SERVICE department has many special features. They include the elimination from the garage proper of all oil and grease storage, an electrically operated wheel alignment machine, a special body shop, a dustproof painting booth, easy access to all departments and many innovations for the training and welfare of the employees. All of the business offices are being air conditioned.

An enlarged and well stocked parts department will eliminate delays in repair and servicing of cars.

The Chevrolet line this year includes the famous Corvette, the first all American sports car, which is attracting a lot of attention in the display room.

In addition to many gifts given away three days, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, special prizes include a Schwinn bike, a coffeemaster and a toastmaster. The open house starts Friday at 6 p.m. and continues from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. The prize drawing will be held at 10 p.m. Saturday.

Mr. Lattof came to Arlington Heights 18 years ago, acquiring the Chevrolet agency. Two years later he moved from State rd. to South Evergreen. After purchasing the original garage at that location, he made building additions, and purchased additional parking area.

Recognizing the future growth of the community he decided that a major transformation of business facilities was necessary.

He has done just that.

Trude Realty Hastens Construction On Elms Apartments

On account of delays in the issuing of the building permits the first unit of the Elms apartments on Northwest highway, Arlington Heights, will probably not be completed until October 15.

Bricklayers are now at work on the first building and foundations for the three others are in progress. They will be completed as fast as possible. The realty company does not anticipate any difficulty in having all of the units rented long before they are completed.

No garages are now being planned, but every renter will have his individual car space on the adjoining parking lot.

He will appreciate hearing from anyone having rooms or an apartment to rent. He can be reached at the school by phone, Wheeling 87, during the month of June.

Former Wheeling Child Found Drowned In Lake

Beverly Smith, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith, former Wheeling residents, was found drowned in the shallow water of Cross Lake, Wis.

A bloodhound led searchers to the body. Beverly moved to the cottage with her parents just two weeks ago. They had been living in Wheeling with Mrs. Ruth Beck for three weeks and prior to that time the family, which consists of five children and the parents, lived at the Chevy Chase Country club. The family originally came from Chicago.

The little girl wandered away from home just before dark Sunday, her parents said.

Mt. Prospect State Bank Doubles Capital Stock

Mt. Prospect State Bank, keeping pace with the growth of the area it serves has doubled its capital stock. The stockholders gave their approval to the increase at their annual meeting Jan. 13, 1954. With the new financial structure set up, the State of Illinois thru the state auditor recently also gave its stamp of approval.

With the doubling of the shares from 1,000 with a par value of $100 each to 2,000 shares, the bank is in a better position to meet the needs of its customers.

The increase was accomplished by two steps. First was the sale of 500 shares at $200 a share, which were purchased by existing stockholders. The second step was the declaration of a stock dividend of 500 shares. The sale of the stock was completed by May 15, 1954, after which the stock dividend was declared.

With the completion of these requirements the Auditor of Public Accounts officially gave his approval May 29, 1954, the notice of which appears in this issue.

The last increase in the capital stock of the bank was Oct. 3, 1949 when it was increased from $50,000 to $100,000. At that time the deposits of the bank were $4,000,000. May 19 of this year those deposits had reached $8,500,000. A comparison of total assets and liabilities at those two periods show a like increase, percentage wise. Oct. 3, 1949 the total was $4,339,000. May 17, 1954 they had reached $9,042,000.

Today, the Mt. Prospect State Bank is the oldest banking institution in northwest Cook County. Under conservative management it withstood the depression. It had the confidence of the public when it was organized 43 years ago and it still has that confidence.

During all these years it has been practically under one management. William Busse, county commissioner, organized the institution in 1911 and has served continuously as chairman of the board of directors.

Other officers are: William J. Busse, president; Carl Hammerl, executive vice president; Robert W. Gewecke, cashier; Charles Nitz, assistant cashier.

Fractions Of Non-High School Districts To Be Annexed To High Schools

Cook County Board of School Trustees will hold a hearing July 16 upon the disposition of four areas which are listed as non-high school territory.

Included are two sections of Wheeling township that are part of the common school district 26, Feehanville, situated along River road. The majority of the pupils of the area are attending Arlington Heights high school.

The other areas are parts of school districts 26, 125, 81, 78 and 64. They will probably be annexed to Leyden and Maine township high schools.

CIRCLING THE TOWN
BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

They're off to the races today at Arlington Park, and for six weeks now this will seem like a city instead of a village. Summer visitor — both transient and resident — will be seen about town, in stores and on the highway.

Many local people visited the track last Sunday at its open house and saw that much remodeling and redecorating had been done. Especially impressive to visitors were the escalators, relieving spectators of the necessity of climbing steps to reach the grandstands, Many more will now doubtless take advantage of the view from the upper stands.

Management of the park has announced that both performers and purses will be greater than ever this year at Arlington Park with feature races several times each week and most all of America's greatest horses running at least one time.

'And the Trimmings'

Barbecue with all the trimmings is a standard expression, but in the case of the affair sponsored by St. James Holy Name society it takes on real meaning. They not only offer barbecues, french fried potatoes, home made cakes and so on, but also entertainment to suit any taste.

There will be square dancing to the calling of Don Finfrock, regular dancing with Les Griffith and his orchestra, games and prizes. Even the children have been thought of with a special booth of their own.

New school building fund will benefit from proceeds from this barbecue which will take place Saturday from 5 p.m. until midnight at the school grounds. Visitors are invited to come any time and stay as long as they can—the men promise a full evening of fun and good food.

Ice Cream and Cake

Another coming event that looks like fun is the ice cream social to be held this Sunday at the parish hall of Our Lady of the Wayside church. It is sponsored by the school committee of the Catholic Woman's club of the church to help buy linens and dishes for the convent.

The committee has invited all parish children from "6 to 60" (only those who like ice cream, of course!) to eat their fill and enjoy a musical program. Ice cream, cake and soft drinks will be sold.

Welcome

Saturday is open house at Girl Scout camp Hickory Hill near Edgerton, Wis. Since it is only about 100 miles northwest and since it is the camp which most local girls attend, there will undoubtedly be a large attendance from here.

Parents of prospective campers will be especially interested to see and hear of the program in which their daughters will participate. Miss Marion Hodgins, director, will explain the activities in which the girls participate.

Dad of the Year

Another honor for a resident of Arlington Heights has come to Lawrence J. Fenlon, named father of the year for metropolitan Chicago. The Fenlons are parents of 10 children. They have lived in Arlington Heights for about a year now.

Mr. Fenlon is a past state commander of the American Legion and was a candidate for national commander last year.

Congratulations are in order from all of us.

Sidor Benefit Dance Nets Over $730

The benefit dance Friday night at the Arlington Heights South school netted $730.85, which has been turned over to the Sidor family who recently lost their home by fire.

The Forest View community did an excellent job. The size of the returns is due to the generosity of many businessmen and others. Acknowledgement of their gifts and tickets sold will appear in next week's Herald.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

Highway engineers are making directional signs along the road bigger and are using larger lettering on them to enable you to read them at today's highway speeds, but even so, it is a frequent experience to find your route turns at an intersection you have almost reached.

Play it safe. Pass the intersection, turn around at the first safe opportunity and come back to it from the other direction. Don't try to make a sudden turn or a sudden stop when you are traveling at today's highway speeds. You can easily lose control of your car completely by such sudden movements at those speeds.

Even if you should maintain control of your own car, the fellow behind you may be caught entirely by surprise and crash into you. It is far safer to pass the intersection, give the proper arm signal to the car behind and come to a gradual stop. Then you can go back to the intersection and make your turn without endangering your life or those of others.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

Seek More Registrations For Recreation Program

"The more boys and girls who sign up for the summer recreation program (this does not include swimming) at Recreation and South parks in Arlington Heights, the better the program will be," was the statement made by the recreation directors this week.

The turnout to date has been good, but there is still room for more youngsters. The only program which met with overwhelming response was the tennis instruction class. Classes have been rescheduled in order to accommodate all registrants. Beginners will meet on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays and advanced students will receive instructions on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

A SCHEDULE will be posted on the park bulletin board. If there is any conflict in time the student should call Eileen Shumacker, CLearbrook 3-0030, after 6 p.m., for further information.

The handicraft program started Monday at Recreation park. Classes for 8 to 12 years olds will be held from 1:30 to 4 p.m., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and supplies are purchased at the park. Classes for 5 to 7 years olds will meet Tuesdays and Thursdays from 1:30 to 4 p.m. Youngsters in this group are to bring $1 to cover cost of supplies for the season.

Registrations are still being accepted for both groups, which meet outside, in front of the field house.

Tom Bowersox will conduct activities at South Park, across from the Junior high school. The program will be conducted daily from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. All boys living south of the tracks are urged to get into the swing of things and participate in the program.

TURN-OUT at Recreation park was good. Nearly 40 Digits (first and second graders) registered. They will be instructed in softball fundamentals. Nearly 40 boys of other ages also registered and they were started in wrestling fundamentals, followed by baseball practice. The boys in this group will have a varied program this year, including wrestling, track and field events, basketball, football and baseball. More boys are urged to register.

To date 40 girls have registered for the girls' activities at Recreation park. All girls from 5 through 13 years old, are invited to participate. Registrations are still being accepted in the east section of the park by the swings.

So far field trips to Brookfield zoo, Museum of Science and Industry and a picnic have been planned as a part of the girls' program.

DOUBLE DUTY

This striking cotton outfit is a double duty swim-and-play suit. It is designed by Gantner in an unusual, flock-dotted denim with the look of shantung. Worn with the separate skirt, it's a play suit; without the skirt, it's a slim swim suit.

This 'Bird' Will Cause No More Trouble

Birds bothering children, lost bikes, stolen lumber, lost children, rowdy kids and dog complaints were among the many items filling the police agenda in Arlington Heights the past week.

Chief Carl H. Skoog was called to the J. Matt home, 1125 N. Dunton, because bluejays were swooping down and pecking at the Matt children playing in the yard. The Chief had to shoot one of the birds to stop the attacks.

Thefts reported included bikes, lawn sprinkler and lumber, the latter being taken from a building site at 713 S. Chestnut.

Four boys, two from Arlington and two from Mount Prospect, were removed from the Arlington pool Friday because they would not behave. The police were called in by pool attendants who could not get the boys to stop their rowdiness.

Firemen answered a call at the Horcher garage, 18 S. Evergreen, where a couch burned up. It is believed the fire started from a cigarette.

Lester Traub, 2902 Dove, Rolling Meadows, was injured in a collision Friday night at Wilke rd. and South st. Traub was attempting to make a left turn on to South st., when his auto collided with one driven by Chester Cochrane of Arlington airport, which was traveling south on Wilke rd.

He was taken to St. Francis hospital, Evanston, where he is still hospitalized with a fractured knee cap. Dr. Robert Muench of Arlington gave first aid to Cochrane, who suffered cuts and bruises.

Lions Hear Talk By FBI Agent; Install Officers

Lions club officers who will serve during the 1954-55 season in Arlington Heights were installed recently by past president Frank Sesterhen.

Lions O. W. Gappert, William Poole and Harold Hastings were presented with plaques in recognition of their outstanding service to the club and the community during the past year.

Guest speaker for the evening was FBI agent Raymond Driscoll of Arlington Heights, who gave a very interesting talk on the activities, duties and types of investigations conducted by the FBI. Attention was drawn to the fact that one small line in a news article, "the criminal was apprehended by the FBI," actually may have involved hundreds of agents, working around the clock in all sections of the country, and perhaps took months of tedious legwork. He also stressed the close cooperation that exists between the bureau and the thousands of local law enforcement agencies in the United States and its possessions.

Eastwood Events

The Eastwood Board of Directors held their monthly meeting June 17 at the home of Del Barrick. Plans were discussed for future meetings of the Association as well as social activities for the coming season. A square dance is contemplated for July 24 on St. James st. between Beverly and Douglas. Don Finfrock will be the caller for the dance. Records of popular music will also be played periodically for those who do not wish to square dance. Mr. Finfrock will be very helpful to those who wish to learn to square dance. This affair is for all Eastwood residents and their friends. A bulletin will be delivered to all homes with details of the dance.

Bridge Tournament

Attention is again called to the bridge tournament among Eastwood residents beginning in September. All interested couples are asked to contact Mrs. Jean Rogers by phoning her at Clearbrook 3-3265. Full particulars on how the tournament is run will be sent to each family in the area.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Johnson were visitors last week in Colorado Springs, Col., where Mr. Johnson was a national director of the State of Illinois at the National Jaycee convention. Mr. Johnson flew on to Washington, D. C., where he is attending the National 4-H camp.

June 24 Kevin Klopfenstein is celebrating his fifth birthday at a party for his little playmates. Those who will attend are Barbara and Wally Berglind, Billy and Tommy Rush, and Francine and Joey Schneller.

Stork Shower

Mrs. Virginia Heitz was honored at a surprise stork shower given at the home of Mrs. Richard Bertsch in Scarsdale Estates June 9. The party was attended by about 25 friends of the guest of honor.

Anniversary greetings are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mutti, who celebrated 12 years of marriage June 18.

Karen and Billy Kasper are enjoying a vacation with their grandmother at a Lake Resort about 18 miles outside of Milwaukee.

Lenore Radosti danced in a recital given by the Berning School of Music and Dancing at Roosevelt high school June 16. An audience of approximately 700 watched Miss Zimmerman's dancing class put on their show. Lenore danced in three numbers—the ensemble, Jumping Rope Rhythms and Arkansas Traveler. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Radosti of N. Beverly lane.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. McCarthy and Mr. and Mrs. J. Sadler and family spent four days at Tyelene Lodge located between Manistee and Escanaba, Mich., on a fishing holiday. Their trip was very successful, since they came home with a string of 50 Walleyed Pike. Mr. Sadler caught one that weighed five pounds. On their return home the group stopped off in Eagle River, Wis., to visit with Mrs. McCarthy's mother.

Republican Women Plan Annual Summer Outing

Concentrating on education at the grass-roots level, Republican women of Wheeling township who are members of the 13th congressional district, will hold a summer outing July 9 at the Viking club in Gurnee to get together as many women as possible to meet the Republican candidates and to learn about the reapportionment amendment to the state constitution which will be put to a vote in next November's election.

State Senator Robert McClory of the eighth senatorial district will brief members of the club and their guests on reapportionment. The principal speech of the day will be given by the Honorable Joseph T. Meek, candidate for U. S. Senator.

Mrs. George Hieber, 738 N. Belmont, Arlington Heights committeewoman of Wheeling township, is a member of the board of directors of the club which met June 17 at the Viking club to report on progress made for the outing.

A picnic lunch will be served at noon by the club. Tables will be set out on shaded lawns to accommodate the three or four hundred people who are expected. In the event of bad weather, lunchon will be served in the dance pavilion, where the program will be held.

The price of the luncheon is $1.75 and tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Quentin Ford, ticket chairman, Clearbrook 3-3230; Mrs. Ira Parker, Clearbrook 3-0751, and Mrs. George Hieber, Clearbrook 3-5332.

644 Turn Out For First Day Swimming Lessons

Six hundred and forty-four youngsters got in the swim at Arlington Heights pool Monday, which was the first day of the summer swimming program. This entire group, consisting of both boys and girls, was made up of non-floaters and floaters, which is the very first stage of learning to swim.

Parents are reminded by "Bus" Ormsbee, swimming director, that the age limit of 7 must be adhered to, as no child may receive lessons until he is 7 years old. There has also been a change in the time schedule for the Monday, Wednesday and Friday classes.

GIRLS IN THE non-floater and floater class scheduled for 9 to 9:45 a.m. will continue to come at that time. Girls scheduled for 9:45 to 10:30 a.m. have been rescheduled to come at 10:30 to 11:15 a.m. Boys scheduled to come from 10:30 to 11:15 a.m. will now come at 9:45 to 10:30 a.m. Boys coming from 11:15 a.m. to 12 noon will continue to come at that hour. This change was necessary to prevent confusion in the shower rooms.

Tadpoles, minnows and fish will have lessons on Tuesdays and Thursdays, with girls meeting from 9 to 10:30 a.m. and boys from 10:30 to noon.

All boys and girls who have successfully passed their shark test and are ready for distance swimming and diving may join the Waterbug club, which will meet Saturdays at 9 a.m. A competitive swimming team will be picked from this group. As yet no schedule has been arranged but it is hoped meets can be arranged with other pools in the suburban area.

PRIVATE LESSONS are nearly filled up for this period, but those desiring private instruction who could not be accommodated at this time may contact Ormsbee to make reservations for the second period. Private lessons cost $10, plus a season ticket for residents and $10 for a non-resident swim instruction ticket, plus $10 for private lessons. The $10 pays for five one-half hour lessons.

It is still not too late to sign up for the regular swimming classes. Those living outside the park district, who cannot buy season tickets, may sign up for lessons by purchasing a swim instruction ticket costing $10.

The general public, whether or not they reside in the park district, may use the pool for a daily admission fee of 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children.

ROMPER STYLE

A popular swim suit style this season is the romper, National Cotton Council fashionists report. This romper swim suit is designed in a gay Everglaze print cotton by Gantner of California. The skirt opens at the side and has deep-set pleats. The black, shiny belt is waterproof.

Completes 30 Years

Public Service company associates of Victor O. Bernthal, 1619 Brown, Arlington Heights, will be congratulating him Friday, June 25, as he observes his 30th anniversary in the utility business.

Since then he has served in various operating, inspection and engineering capacities in Waukegan, Ottawa, Crystal Lake, Morris, Joliet, and since 1948 in Northbrook where he is electric operating superintendent of the company's northern division.

Bernthal, an elder in the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights, is a member of the Western society of engineers and the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. An enthusiastic traveler on vacations, his favorite leisure-time activity is golf.

The Bernthals have a son, Richard, a Northwestern university graduate this year, and a daughter, Joan, who recently completed her sophomore year at Lawrence college, Appleton, Wisconsin.

TV NEWS

By Don Hager

A recently published survey, called "Television and Youth," and based on research in Ann Arbor, Mich., by a professor working for his doctor's degree at the University of Michigan, brings out some interesting facts.

It's not surprising to find that an overwhelming majority of the nation's school children regard TV as their favorite entertainment, with books second, radio third, and the movies fourth. It's more surprising to discover that 81% of the children reported that TV did not interfere with their homework! In fact, 50% of the children in grade schools said that television has actually aided them in their studies, giving them helpful insight into science, history, government, and current events.

Especially interesting to parents with children will be the conclusion that the average child in a house with a TV set (after the first novelty of owning the set has worn off) will take part in just as many other activities as before, will read just about as often as ever, and will even learn about new hobbies through video.

Viewing time varies with children of different age groups, and those who watch TV most are the higher grades of grammar school, their average being 3½ hours per day. No matter what your family's average viewing time, you'll watch TV with eye comfort and full enjoyment when your set is a DUMONT. Test Dumont's comfort-viewing in our showroom. DON HAGER'S TV & APPLIANCE, 11 W. Davis St., Arlington Heights, Ill. Phone CLearbrook 3-0700.

Local People To See Eclipse Of Sun

Local People ....Lud..... ....

An event of extreme importance to the astronomer and of awe-inspiring grandeur to the lay person and the trained scientific observer alike will take place next week Wednesday, beginning at about sunrise or shortly thereafter and lasting a little less than two hours.

This is a total eclipse of the sun, or a time when the moon is between the earth and the sun and casts a shadow on the earth and blocks out the rays of the sun.

Although an eclipse of the sun is not a rare event, they are not always total, nor do they always occur in easily accessible spots. This one, then, is of great interest to Americans since the path along which it is total starts in Nebraska, traverses the southern shore of Lake Superior, the southern part of Hudson Bay, of Greenland, of the Scandinavian peninsula, Russia and ends in Pakistan.

Traveling about 400 miles from Prospect Heights to the Porcupine Mountain State park in Michigan to observe the phenomenon will be Homer Torreyson and his daughter, Jane Ann. Torreyson, a teacher at Lane technical high school in Chicago, is a member of the Burnham Astronomical society and has in back of his house in Prospect Heights a telescope which he himself built.

What the travelers will see in Michigan which will not be seen in Prospect Heights includes an approximately 80 second period of totality of the eclipse. The sky will darken to the light or normal moonlight so that the stars usually surrounding the sun can be seen — the constellation Orion usually discernible six months from this time is one group of these stars. During the first seconds of totality the diamond ring effect will be seen; then Bailey's beads, when the sun shines in the valleys of the moon; then the corona. If a person were in an airplane or on top of a high mountain, the shadow could be seen racing across the earth.

Since the eclipse is not total in the Chicago area (about 90%), Torreyson has these important warnings to pass on to the interested observer here:

"Because the light of the sun is not completely blocked-out and what comes through is of the same brilliance as the total sunlight, do not view the eclipse through telescope, binoculars, or naked eye. Tremendous harm can result to the observers' eyes, even to the extent of suffering complete, permanent blindness."

TORREYSON indicated that the best way to look at the eclipse here is through a strip of completely exposed film held up to the disc of the sun. Smoked glass is another usable device.

Four cameras will be in the equipment carried by Torreyson: motion picture, 35 mm. black and white, 35 mm. color, and a camera he has been constructing himself with a special long focus—the latter because the size of the image on the film is 1/100 the focal length of the camera.

SPECIAL FILTERS should be used over the lenses of cameras used in the photographing of the eclipse anywhere it is done. The filter should have a Wratten No. 96 specification or a Kodak ND 4.0 specification. This strength of filter allows 1/10,000 of the light to pass through. Only available, so far as Torreyson knows, at the loop Kodak store in Chicago, the filter can be cut and mounted in a conventional filter holder or taped over the lens. Two thicknesses of 2.0 filter may be used. Filming the eclipse on black and white, the photographer should use a stop of 16 at 1/25 second with plus film for the first half hour, then 1/50 second for the second half hour, and 1/100 second for the remainder of the time.

For the amateur the thrill of seeing the eclipse and trying to obtain photographs will justify getting up at the early hour of dawn. For the astronomer it presents the opportunity to check or add new data about the universe.

One of the most important, Torreyson said, is the observation of the Einstein shift, the deflection of light rays in the sun's gravitational field, first verified in 1919, and only able to be verified by photographs taken during a total eclipse and comparing with those taken some months earlier or later. This is one of the proofs of Einstein's theory of relativity.

Another is the observation of the variation from prediction in the movements of the heavenly bodies, up to this time unexplainable by astronomers.

Air Force At O'Hare Seeking Recruits

Young men, 17 to 26½ years of age, are now being accepted for enlistment in the air force reserve as members of "Chicago's Own" 437th troop carrier wing (reserve).

The wing, which trains one week end a month at O'Hare International airport, Park Ridge, is offering training as reserve airmen to qualified young men who have not yet been classified 1-A in the draft and who are mentally, morally and physically qualified.

The new program in no way affects the trainee's present or future draft status, but it offers him the opportunity of enlisting in the regular air force, ahead of all waiting lists, for four years, if and when he is called in the draft.

For training one week end a month, the trainee will receive $10.40 a week end during the first four months, and $11.20 a week end thereafter. Meals while training are free, and each trainee receives a complete set of uniforms for his use while training.

Further information may be obtained by calling ROdney 3-0800, extension 384, or writing or visiting the 437th troop carrier wing recruiting office, O'Hare International airport, Park Ridge.

Enrolled from this area: Capt. Charles P. Gillison, 304 W. Memory Lane, Mount Prospect.

Capt. Edward M. Karl, 305 N. Emerson st., Mount Prospect.

Capt. James O. Turney, 627 E. Davis st., Arlington Heights.

Watch Mercury Sales Climb, Says Roto

Richard Roto of the Arlington Heights Mercury agency, has a selling technique today that he did not have a month ago. He has returned from a two weeks' course in merchandising in which he and 30 other Mercury dealers from all over the U.S. participated.

Richard says, "I knew the advantages of the Mercury car before I went to Detroit. I just got a better and quicker way to tell it to the prospective customer. Watch Mercury sales climb."

Girl Scout News

Arlington Heights Intermediate Girl Scout troop 9 finished the year by having a cook out for their mothers June 10 at Elk Grove. The girls prepared hot dogs and made a dessert of graham crackers, hershey bars and marshmallows. They sang many songs they had learned during the year and played several games.

Troop 9 also sent 10 kits for Korea which were made and filled by the members.

Chest X-Rays At Heights July 14-16

All Arlington Heights residents will have a chance to check on their health through a free chest X-ray from July 14 through 16 when a mobile X-ray unit visits the community in a search for unsuspected cases of tuberculosis.

The survey is part of the extensive county-wide X-ray for health program conducted jointly by the Christmas seal-supported tuberculosis institute and the suburban Cook county tuberculosis sanitarium district in cooperation with local civic, business, church and social groups. Volunteers will be recruited to help publicize the survey and assist at the unit.

DURING THE 1953 Arlington Heights survey, 636 X-rays were taken, of which 23 showed suspicious signs of TB. The number of persons X-rayed represents 8.3 per cent of the total adult resident population. During the same year, six persons were hospitalized with the disease, at a cost of $7,896, the SCCTSD revealed.

"Although the primary objective of the survey is to uncover tuberculosis in apparently healthy persons," said Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, executive director for the SCCTSD, "it is stressed that the X-rays serve as a general health check, for they can also detect other chest disorders such as lung cancer and heart conditions. Everyone, 15 years of age and over, needs a chest X-ray every year in order that any such condition may be caught at the earliest possible moment to prevent delay in treatment — and in the case of TB, to prevent the spread of the disease among family and friends."

X-raying takes only a minute and is done thrugh the outer clothing so that no undressing is required. Results of the X-rays are confidential and will be mailed to the home within two weeks.

Has Narrow Escape When Train Hits Car

An auto-train accident in Mount Prospect Monday morning resulted only in a lost fender and smashed wheel on the car.

Fred Becker, Route 1, McHenry, made a right turn off Northwest hwy. to go west on Central rd., when he realized a train was almost upon him. He backed up, but not far enough to avoid a collision. Train 646, a Chicago-bound local, was slowing up for the Mount Prospect station, hit the front fender and wheel of the car. Becker received no injuries although he remained in the car.

Three modern whittlers, caught by police practicing on the Central school playground equipment, are booked to appear in Judge Gould's court Saturday afternoon. The teen-age youths were found just before dark Sunday evening chopping at the equipment with an ax.

Ice Cream Cone Brings Monkey From Tree

There were monkeyshines on North avenue in Barrington last week.

Joining the Harold McKenzie household was a pet spider monkey.

When McKenzie took the monkey out in the backyard in its cage to get some air the little simian took advantage of the first opportunity to get away and up a tree it went.

Calling was futile. All sorts of delicacies proffered in the attempt to lure it down proved unsuccessful. It stayed in the tree overnight and through Tuesday. Not even the brisk thunderstorm and downpour fazed the monk.

But hot and humid Tuesday evening an ice cream cone did the trick.

Irrelevant; not pertinent; foreign. "The judge ruled his testimony to be irrelevant."

Nancy Gallagher And Fred Hartwig Are Wed

The First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights was the scene June 12 of the wedding of Miss Nancy Lynne Gallagher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence G. Gallagher, 217 S. Edward st., Mount Prospect, and Fred L. Hartwig Jr., son of Fred Hartwig Sr., 107 S. Haddow ave., Arlington Heights.

Rev. C. Victor Brown officiated at the ceremony held at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Earle Auge sang "Because," "The Wedding Prayer," and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Earle Auge at the organ. Vases of white snapdragons and carnations against a background of tall candelabra and fern formed the floral setting for the ceremony. White ribbons decorated each pew.

The bride wore a full-length gown of net over taffeta fashioned with an off-the-shoulder neckline trimmed with taffeta rose medallions, a fitted bodice and long sleeves. The bouffant skirt ended in a chapel length train. A close fitting cap of taffeta medallions and studded pearls held her fingertip lenght veil in place. The bride wore the same strand of pearls her mother wore on her wedding day, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations, stephanotis and ivy leaves.

Miss Jean Willett of Wilmington, Ohio, was the maid of honor. She wore a full length gown of Alice Blue net over taffeta fashioned with lace insets and a lace capelet, and she carried a crescent bouquet of pink feathered carnations.

Miss Martha Zepp of Park Ridge and Miss Patricia Eaton of Arlington Heights were the bridesmaids. Their gowns and flowers were identical to those of the maid of honor.

Christy Roberts of Winnetka cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a white organdy gown trimmed with a blue satin ribbon and she carried a minature bouquet similar to those of the attendants. William Busse, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Busse of Mount Prospect, carried the rings on a pillow of chantilly lace and satin made from the bride's mother's wedding gown.

Leon Nolte of Mount Prospect was best man. Kenneth Wetendorf and Charles Turk, both of Mount Prospect, were the ushers. Master Bill Sohmidt lighted the candles before the ceremony.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Gallagher wore a periwinkle blue lace and chiffon dress with matching accessories and a rose throated orchid corsage. Mrs. Hartwig wore a dress of Alice blue lace over taffeta with white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

A reception for 200 guests was held immediately following the ceremony in the church parlors.

The bride's going away outfit consisted of a powder blue linen suit, a matching flowered cloche, white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Francis Gallagher, grandmother of the bride, and Miss Bess Gallagher of Lincoln, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Donnan of Bloomington, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Mile Caringello of Mackinaw, Ill.; Clark Gallagher and Clark Gallagher II of Monroe, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Rudd of Nebraska City, Nebr.; Mrs. James Macksbury and Mrs. Frank Fox of Mendota, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bauman of Cleveland, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bauman of Milwaukee, Wis., and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mayer of Aurora, Ill.

The couple honeymooned at Birchcliff Lodge in The Dells, Wis. and are now making their home on Golf rd., just outside of Mount Prospect.

Anita Glabe, Arnold Preuter Say 'I Do'

Now residing at 1701 Illinois st., Fort Wayne, Ind., are Mr. and Mrs. Arnold E. Prueter, who were married June 5 at St. Paul Lutheran church, Mount Prospect.

The new Mrs. Prueter is the former Anita Glabe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Glabe, 6 S. William st., Mt. Prospect, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Prueter, 1101 S. Ridgeland ave., Oak Park.

Rev. W. Koester officiated at the ceremony. Carl Anderson sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Wedding Prayer" accompanied by Carlyle Abel, fraternity brother of the groom, at the organ. Candelabra and bouquets banked the altar, and flowers tied with satin bows marked each pew.

The bride wore a full length gown of tulle over taffeta fashioned with short sleeves and a sweep train. The scoop neckline was trimmed with bands of Alecon lace, and the same lace trimmed the bouffant skirt. A small tulle cap held her fingertip length veil in place, and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis and two white orchids.

Miss Yvonne Schmidt of Shawano, Wis., sorority sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a blue ballerina length gown of rice paper taffeta fashioned with a small shrug jacket. She carried a bouquet of red garnet roses.

Miss Mary Rittmiller of Peoria and Mrs. Carol Berning of Valparaiso, Ind., both sorority sisters of the bride, were the bridesmaids. Miss Barbara Fricke was the junior bridesmaid. The attendants wore gowns and carried bouquets identical to those of the maid of honor.

The bride's mother wore a light blue lace dress with matching accessories, and the groom's mother wore a dress of mauve lace and organza with matching accessories.

Robert Glabe, brother of the bride, was best man. William Berning of Valparaiso, Ind., George Marshall of St. Louis, Mo., Albert Kroening of Chicago and Wayne Weidner of Chicago, all fraternity brothers of the groom, were the ushers.

Chicago Alumnae Hold Open House For Delegates

Delegates on their way to the Alpha Gamma Delta fiftieth anniversary convention at the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec, Canada, will be greeted by members of the Chicago chapter at an open house in the Palmer House June 24.

Midwest and western delegates who will be stopping off in Chicago that day will be feted during their one-day visit here, before they embark on the special "Golden Anniversary" convention train for Quebec. Members of the Chicago club of the sorority will act as welcomers, hostesses, and guides to the visitors, who are invited for refreshments, relaxation, and for information on points of interest in the city.

At 7:50 that evening, the visitors will be joined by Chicago area delegates, and all will board the special train at LaSalle Street station. The convention, to be held June 25 through July 1, will have more than 600 alumnae and undergraduate members in attendance, representing 65 undergraduate chapters and several hundred alumnae groups from the United States and Canada.

The fraternity does extensive philanthropic work, primarily with the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults Inc., the Easter Seal society. Among the annual donations is a scholarship for training of vocational counselors to handicapped cerebral palsy victims at Bellevue hospital in New York City.

Locally, the five neighborhood alumnae groups which compose the Chicago club, and Lambda Alumnae chapter, have adopted individual projects, including aid to the Northwestern university speech clinic and the Fran Allison Day Camp for Crippled Children.

Jean Kranz Is Bride Of Vernon Guenther

Palms, ferns, baskets of gladioli and carnations and candelabra formed the setting for the marriage of Miss Jean Carole Kranz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kranz, Old Plum Grove rd., Palatine, and Vernon E. Guenther, N. State rd., Arlington Heights, son of Mrs. Anna Guenther of Palatine.

Rev. Hilmar Th. Rosenberg officiated at the 7:30 p.m. ceremony held June 5 at Immanuel Lutheran church, Palatine. Mrs. Sievert Block sang "The Lord's Prayer" and the "Wedding Prayer" accompanied by Paul Leimer at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an Empire gown of scalloped chantilly lace, satin and nylon tulle fashioned with a drop shoulder line. Imported French irridescent sequins trimmed the bodice and the bottom of the heart shaped train. Nylon tulle ruffles edged the bottom of the skirt and the sleeves were long and pointed. Orange blossoms made of imported sequins trimmed the crown of seed pearls which held her fingertip length veil. The bride carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and ivy with a detachable gardenia corsage on a white Bible.

Mrs. Ray Radlein served as her sister's matron of honor. She wore a cornflower blue gown fashioned with a chantilly lace bodice, a detachable yoke with a Peter Pan collar and a bouffant nylon tulle skirt. Her picture hat was trimmed with forget-me-nots and blue streamers, and she carried a bouquet of red sweetheart roses with blue gardenias and streamers of split white carnations and ivy on a lace heart.

Mrs. Robert Kranz, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Donald Guenther, sister-in-law of the groom, were the bridesmaids. Their gowns were identical to that of the matron of honor. They carried blue gardenias and streamers of split white carnations and ivy on a lace heart.

Donald Guenther, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Robert Kranz, brother of the bride, and Robert Guenther, brother of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kranz wore a taupe street length dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink gardenias. The groom's mother wore a navy blue street length dress with white accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

Following the ceremony a reception for 250 guests was held at the Palatine Fire house. Guests included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Sophia Kranz, and the bride's grandfather, Theodore Rakow.

The couple honeymooned in the south and are now making their home on S. Plum Grove rd., Palatine. Both are graduates of Palatine high school.

Donald Hoeck Takes Chicago Girl As Bride

The Graham Taylor chapel in Chicago was the scene of the ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Barbara Jean Cross and Donald William Hoeck, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hoeck, 200 S. Wheeling rd., Prospect Heights. The wedding took place at 7 p.m. June 12.

The bridal couple pledged themselves before the altar which was decorated with gladioli, and Dr. Mitchell T. Ancker read the nuptial ceremony. Miss Virginia Pickrel sang "I Love Thee" and "Depuis Le Jour." Miss Harriett O'Connor was organist.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Lillian Waser Cross, Chicago, was given in marriage by Alexander J. Waser, her grandfather. Her gown, of white nylon and lace, was fashioned with scoop neckline, lace bodice and full skirt. The lace peplum was caught up with tiny rosebuds, and the skirt beneath the peplum was accordion pleated nylon tulle. She wore a lace juliet cap and fingertip veil, and she carried white orchids and lilies of the valley.

Maid of honor was Miss Joan W. Babb of Winnetka. Her gown was dusty rose mauve tissue silk shantung, and she carried deep-happiness roses in a spray. The bridesmaids, Miss Christa Gohrbandt, Champaign, and Miss Joyce J. Davis, Chicago, wore dresses styled like that of the maid of honor.

Attending the groom were Bruce Burgess of Chicago, best man, Thomas Holliger, Chicago, and William Mebes of Saint Albiens, N. Y., ushers.

A reception for 200 was held at the Cloisters of the Chicago Theological seminary.

Favorites For Flavor

An interesting history is attached to the authentic German recipe we are featuring this week.

Made for generations in Mrs. John J. Muszynski's family, the recipe for Yeast Kranz, a German coffee cake, originated at the old Kranz Candy Shop in Chicago. The shop is no longer in existence, but this delicious coffee cake was served there for many years, and Mrs. Muszynski received the recipe from her grandmother.

Made in a tube pan, Yeast Kranz is high and light in texture and delicately flavored with lemon. It is sprinkled with powdered sugar, and is excellent to serve for breakfast or afternoon coffee.

Yeast Kranz will stay fresh for several days, but Mrs. Muszynski often cuts the cake in half and freezes half of it, as the recipe does make a large coffee cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Muszynski moved to this area from Chicago last September. They live at 818 S. Dunton in Arlington Heights.

Yeast Kranz

1 cake yeast or 1 package dry yeast
¼ cup lukewarm water
1 cup scalded milk
4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
¼ pound butter
¾ cup sugar
3 whole eggs
Juice and rind of one lemon

Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water. Add dissolved yeast to cooled, scalded milk and beat in one cup flour.

Cream butter and sugar and add eggs, one at a time.

Add lemon juice and rind.

Let the milk, flour and yeast mixture rise until double in bulk. Then combine the two mixtures and beat well. Add remaining three cups flour, mixing well.

Pour batter into a well-greased tube pan. Let rise until double in bulk.

Bake at 425 degrees about one hour or until brown. Let stand five minutes, invert pan and remove cake. Sprinkle with powdered sugar.

Audrey Baker Becomes Mrs. Myron Walling

The marriage of Miss Audrey Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin G. Baker of Bartlett, to Myron B. Walling Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Walling of Chicago, was solemnized at Immanuel Evangelical church, Bartlett.

Rev. Benjamin F. Freese read the recent double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock. Candles on the altar and large baskets of white daisies, gladioli and larkspur provided the setting for the June wedding.

Mrs. Freese played the wedding march from "Lohengrin" for the processional and the Mendelssohn march as the couple left the altar. Mrs. Donald Auble sang "At Dawning" preceding the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" at the close of the service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of lace and nylon tulle over satin. Her veil was of circular design in nylon, held in place by a Dresden bonnet of lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Jack E Norling of Sandwich as matron of honor, and the bridesmaid, Miss Norma Movitz of Bartlett, wore gowns of blue taffeta and nylon net. Their flowers were white carnations.

The bride's and groom's rings were brought to the altar by Alan Lee Baker, nephew of the bride, who served as ringbearer. The groom had his brother, Dr. Samuel Walling of Elmhurst, as best man and groomsman was Arthur Baker, brother of the bride. Ushers were Howard Clark and Robert Hunter of Chicago.

The mother of the bride wore a navy sheer lace with pink accessories and a pink carnation corsage. Mrs. Walling wore a sheer print with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The reception followed in the church parlors.

Both the bride and groom are recent graduates of Northern Illinois State Teachers' college, DeKalb. The past year Mrs. Walling was teaching at Roselle and next year she will teach in the Elmhurst public schools. Mr. Walling is a student at Northwestern Dental school, Chicago.

After July 15, they will be at home at 296 Maple ave., Elmhurst.

NORTHWEST SYMPHONY REVIEW

Last Sunday brought the Northwest Symphony Orchestra series to a triumphant close. Mr. Crafton and the orchestra personnel are to be congratulated on their fine work and especially for this last performance.

The first selection on the program was "The Beautiful Galathea" overture by Von Suppe, followed by Schubert's "Unfinished" Symphony, No. 8. The melodic and ever favorite work of Schubert was smoothly and brilliantly played.

The first half of the program closed with the lively, effervescent "Piedmontese" dances by Sinigaglia.

However, the piece de resistance of the program was Prokofieff's "Peter and the Wolf," with narration by Rev. John B. Hubbard of Park Ridge. The orchestra, Rev. Hubbard and Mr. Crafton blended their talents together to produce the charming orchestral fairy tale. Each instrument which represented the characters in the story portrayed a clear and discriptive picture, with Father Hubbard unfolding the tale in a competent manner.

The "Emperor Waltzes" by Johann Strauss Jr. demonstrated the artistry of the string section of the orchestra.

The versatile program closed with "Allegro Molto Vivace" the third movement from Tschaikowsky's Symphony No. 6, the "Pathetique." In this movement Tschaikowsky has aroused himself from the soul-weariness and lethargy that beset him time and time again. There is a quick and nervous rhythm; a growth in power until the entire orchestra bursts into the bold march rhythm. This challenge was met and conquered with vigor by the Northwest Symphony under the capable guidance of Mr. Crafton.

News of Rolling Meadows

THURSDAY, JUNE 24, 1954

Accidents

A head-on collision between cars driven by Les Traub of Rolling Meadows and D. Cochrane of Arlington Airport occurred last Friday evening at the corner of Wilke rd. and Grove st. Traub was rushed to St. Francis hospital in Evanston for emergency treatment. Although it appeared at the time of the accident that his condition was extremely serious, Les is apparently recuperating very well. He will undergo an operation this week for the removal of part or all of his kneecap, but his surgeon is quite optimistic over the results. Mr. Cochrane suffered several facial lacerations, but apparently he had no injuries and was not hospitalized. Mrs. Traub's mother has been staying with her during Les' absence to assist her in the care of their four children, and to free Mrs. Traub to visit the hospital. Les will be in St. Francis hospital for some time and would, undoubtedly appreciate receiving a card from his neighbors.

June 15 Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Andersen of 2702 Dove st., with their three children, were involved in a three car collision at Rand rd. and Rte. 53. The Anderson car, along with another car, were hit by an auto driven by Clarence Anthony of Helena, Mont. Two persons were killed in the accident and a third person died in the hospital. Tommy Andersen, 5½ years old, who was riding in the front seat, required 5 stitches for a severe cut above his temple, and will probably carry a scar to remind him of the family's terrible experience. The other children, Rocky, who is 1 year old, and Terry ,their 2½ year old daughter, were badly shaken up along with their parents, and are now resting at home.

Ball Game

There will be a baseball game Sunday at 11:30 a.m. at the Arlington high school ball field between George st. and Sigwalt st. The teams, captained by Bill Stegman of George st. and Don Dahlquist of Sigwalt st., are anticipating a good game, with the losers providing the after-game liquid refreshments. Spectators are invited, along with team reinforcements from either street.

Parkways

Residents of Rolling Meadows have been reminded to water the trees which have been planted in our parkways. Many residents, especially those who do not yet have their lawns in, have tended to neglect the trees and many of them are dying. Residents are also reminded that the seeding of the parkways is the responsibility of the individual homeowner and will not be done by the builder.

Graduating

Robert Huberty, the 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Huberty of South st., graduated from Hawthorne grammar school in Chicago June 23. Robert was not only glad to receive his diploma, but was glad to end his daily long trip to Chicago to attend school in order to finish out the semester. Besides, Robert's many Arlington chums who play baseball with him in the Arlington "pony" league have been teasing him about his late-starting vacation.

Community Church

The Rolling Meadows Community church will hold its regular Sunday service at 11 a.m. in the recreation building of the grammar school. Care will be provided for children of those attending—from nursery age up The Community church is still looking for someone who may be able to assist them by playing the piano — even if they are only able to lend a hand temporarily. The church is also interested in organizing a young people's group. Anyone interested in this group should call Mrs. Ruby Yurtis at Clearbrook 3-8137.

Racetrack Traffic

Rolling Meadows residents are again reminded that between the hours of 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. Monday through Saturday, for the duration of the race-track season, June 24 to August 2, traffic on Wilke rd. Kirchoff rd., and Rohlwing rd. will be one-way heading south, and you will be unable to use these roads for travel to Rolling Meadows. Since only local traffic will be allowed in the village of Arlington Hts. and race-track traffic will be barred, special arrangements have been made for Rolling Meadows residents to use Campbell st. to reach their homes. They will be able to use Northwes hwy. or State rd. to reach Campbell st., and then can take Campbell st. to Wilke rd. A policeman will be stationed at the corner of Wilke rd. and Campbell st. during the one-way traffic to break the flow of traffic from the race track to enable Rolling Meadows residents to cross Wilke rd. to reach their homes. Race-track traffic will, of course, be barred from Rolling Meadows.

Celebration

The Ray Vaughan family of South st. held a double celebration last Sunday. Not only did the children honor their father on Fathers' day, but the family celebrated the second birthday of Mary Elizabeth—the baby of the family as well as the only girl.

Parking

Following a recent inspection tour of Rolling Meadows, the Palatine Township fire department — which is the fire department for Rolling Meadows—recommended that pending the completion of driveways residents park on one side of the street only. They have found that it is impossible to move their fire-fighting equipment through the streets when cars are parked on both sides. It is recommended that persons living on east-west streets park on the north side of the street. Let's all try to cooperate in this—it is no longer a matter of convenience to your neighbors for a matter of public safety that our streets be kept clear for the easy flow of traffic.

Free Chest X-Rays

The tuberculosis testing unit will be in Palatine next week. Residents of Rolling Meadows have been invited to take advantage of these free chest X-rays. The X-ray unit will be parked at the Palatine National bank. It will be open from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday, June 28, and from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday, June 29. The X-rays are available to everyone over 15 years of age. This is something that everyone should definitely take advantage of — for his own peace of mind and health, and for the health of the other members of the family and community. Remember, it is absolutely free and requires no effort or any length of time. It is fast and convenient—does not require the removal of any clothing—and certainly is something Rolling Meadowites should participate in wholeheartedly.

Trip

Bob Meyers, 2502 Sigwalt st., has won a week's trip to Niagara Falls, New York City and Washington, D. C. Meyers was the winning branch manager in a recent subscription drive of the Chicago Daily News. Mr. and Mrs. Meyers recently returned from a trip to Florida where they had enjoyed another vacation as the result of winning a contest.

Grading

Since there seems to be so much confusion and controversy about the grading in Rolling Meadows the following plan has been developed by the Home Owners' Association. Anyone who feels his grading has been finished and is not satisfied, is asked to please contact a member of the Improvements Committee who will do his best to see the gading is taken care of if the complaint is legitimate. The members of the committee are: Don Dahlquist, 2506 Sigwalt (Clearbrook 3-0889), Bi White, 2507 Sigwalt (Clearbrook 3-8332), Paul Williams, 2400 George st. (Clearbrook 3-8511), Bob Meyers, 2502 Sigwalt st. (Clearbrook 3-1343), and Jim Kinnard, 2403 George st. (Clearbrook 3-8560). While the grading has been finished on a great many of the lots, only the following listed lot numbers have been finished and approved by the F.H.A. They are: 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 33, 34, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 44, 45 and 46. Each week the list of "completions" will be released to the Improvements committee and will be published in this column. It is hoped that this will in a small measure assist Rolling Meadowites in at least knowing when their grading has been completed and approved. It is recommended residents do not plant grass seed until they have been advised of the completion of this grading by those in charge of this for the builder or by the Improvements Committee of the Home Owners' association. Remember, the first back-filling is not finished grading! Swales will have to be cut for drainage between the houses and by planting grass promptly one runs the risk of having it at least partially ruined by the further grading.

Rolling Meadows Sunday School

Rev. L. V. Stephan of St. Peters church in Arlington Heights and several of the men Sunday school teachers in the Rolling Meadows Sunday school really were "fishers of men" last Sunday. After the big rain storm. due to the clogging of the storm sewer in front of the Sunday school building, Rev. Stephan found it necessary to literally "wade in" to his Sunday school work. Mr. Miller and Mr. Bozee, as well as several other Sunday school teachers used their high boots for protection and carried the children both in and out of the building — and to the delight of the children as one can well imagine!

Furlough

Jim Sutton, that handsome army son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sutton of Campbell st., is presently enjoying a 14-day furlough with his parents in Rolling Meadows. After this brief visit with his parents, Jim will report back to Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., for re-assignment.

Special Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Novak of 2403 Wing st. recently entertained some special out-of-town visitors. The happy visit, however, was precipitated by a tragic beginning. Mrs. Novak's father, Paul Smith of Park Ridge, died suddenly. His son and his wife, Mrs. Novak's step-brother. whom she had never seen, flew in for the funeral. They are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rhodes of Seattle, Wash. Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes spent a week with the Novak family, and everyone had a wonderful time getting acquainted. Mr. and Mrs. Karyl Caldwell of Indianapolis, Ind., other out-of-town relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Novak, also stayed with them for a short while While the family gathering had a very unhappy beginning, the resulting visit was a pleasant experience for the whole family.

News of Elk Grove

Mass Meeting Friday

President Clarence Hansen of the Elk Grove Protective association urges all citizens interested in the future of the Elk Grove community to attend the mass meeting June 25 at 8 p. m. at the Elk Grove school. Subject of discussion will be the July 2 public hearing at the Mt. Prospect village hall to consider rezoning additional farm land to residential for $6,000 prefabricated homes.

Hansen believes that many should be interested in this since it will have a tendency to lower overall property values, cause a health and fire hazard, and be a further burden on the school. Their cheapness and extremely low down payment will attract people who would share existing services but only pay a small proportional share due to such low taxes on this simple type of housing. Most don't object to families moving into the area, but when the proposal is to move in 250, according to the builder's statement in Chicago paper of June 18, in a relatively short time, then it is time to take notice. This is especially true of the school's addition to be built this summer since it could not handle all the children expected from this whole project.

Following are some of the highlights of the 1953-54 year at Elk Grove:

Mothers' Club

Mothers' club conducted a rummage sale, book fair, Star festival, school picnic and a Hallowe'en party. All except the latter two affairs served double purposes: to provide some service to the community and to raise money for worthy school projects.

Hallowe'en party and picnic were purely for community entertainment and were not to raise money. Each of all these events had a lot of spirit and cooperation from the many workers and participants. Special credit goes to the hardworking president, Mrs. Richard Adams, and her active program chairman, Mrs. Donald Moellenkamp. Other officers and committee chairmen also did fine jobs.

Another assist was the serving of refreshments donated by the board of education at the school Christmas program. Donation of the fancy cake for graduation was also much appreciated. Teachers appreciated the money given to the rooms for the many petty cash purposes that arise for miscellaneous special supplies within a room.

HEALTH COMMITTEE, headed by Mrs. Franklin Landmeier, did a magnificent job in carrying through the school health program. This included giving or assisting in audiometer hearing tests, Massachusetts eye tests, height and weight measurement, booster shots, TB tests, vaccinations and physical examinations. They also maintained up-to-date records of all these phases plus the dental check-up slips. Some of the more specialized work was done by private doctors and some by county health department nurses.

In addition to these projects, the club held nine meetings the second Thursday of each month at 1:30. Programs included a visiting educator from Austria, a doctor from the tuberculosis institute, a representative from the high school and a demonstration. Business was conducted at each session. Last year's officers were Mesdames Adams, Cook, Woss and Lemke. Officers elected for next year are Mesdames Adams, Gates, Cook and Lemke.

A special evening meeting featured one of Chicagoland's finest speakers, Dr. Carl Winters, who spoke on relationships of the home, school and church in raising a child. All those who attended realized that he was the best speaker ever to appear at Elk Grove and were hearty in their apraise.

Student Council Activities

Two boys and two girls from each of the three upper grades were elected to the student council. From this group the following were elected officers: Nancy Heimsoth, Paul Kluge, Maria Ortiz and Lois Landmeier.

Student council met to decide what projects to undertake and how to spend money earned. Activities sponsored were three all-school roller skating parties, upper grade dance, free marionette show for all pupils. Money was raised by a magazine subscription drive in the upper four grades, spearheaded by ace salesman Lester Landmeier. The gross of more than $700 brought $220 to their fund. Rest of money was obtained through the efforts of eighth grade girls in selling candy and ice cream at noon.

MONEY HAS been allocated to buy a three-speed portable record player, to provide additional athletic equipment and to have a 50 by 75 foot black top surface to cover the gravel basketball court. Money from the previous year purchased basketball baskets and supports, softball backstop, flagpole and flag and a set of Childcraft. Other money spent this year included purchase of a bass and snare drum for the band, Christmas trees and lights for the school and miscellaneous expenses in connection with parties.

Further summary will be in next week's paper.

Feehanville School

Executive board of the Feehanville PTA met last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Flink. The program for the coming year was discussed extensively, and Mrs. Dorothy Karnuth, program chairman, will have a very busy summer organizing programs for the nine months the association meets. A workable, tentative budget was drawn up, flexible enough to allow for possible changes that might be necessary when the new school is finished. Miss Idyl Nipper, membership chairman, explained her plans for a concerted membership drive.

Long - awaited Massachusetts Vision Test machine has arrived, and the officers all had a chance to examine it at the executive meeting. Plans were also made to order the height and weight machine.

Ed. Brookhouzen is our PTA representative, appointed to serve on the planning commission for the new Arlington Heights high school. He has attended the first meeting and urges all who can to attend, as the meetings, both executive and regular, will be open to all.

Youth Activities

Intermediate Girl Scouts will hold their June meeting at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Karnuth. Some badges will be awarded, as the girls are really concentrating on finishing the work they started during the winter months. Some of the badges can be earned only in the warm weather months, and the scouts are taking advantage of the lovely (?) warm weather we've had lately.

Daily Vacation Bible school will have their closing program June 25, 7:30 p.m., at the Forest River church. Then the children will show a little of what they have learned these past two weeks. Everybody welcome.

Maine Hi-C club had fun in good old country style last Tuesday night—they celebrated their last meeting of the season with a hay ride. Young people from our district who particiapted were Bobby and Bonnie Levine, their cousin, Ruth Levine, Bobby Martens, Janet Sandquist, John Hanson and Philip Roos. As Jack Daniel, the Hi-C club sponsor, couldn't be with them that night, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Roos were invited as guests and chaperones. A delicious picnic supper preceded the hay ride.

Pioneer girls deviated a little from their usual custom last week. Instead of holding their meeting on Tuesday night, the girls all met Monday night and staged a surprise party for Mrs. Lola Roos, one of their leaders. Mrs. Roos had received a wonderful new sewing machine for her birthday, so the girls thought it very appropriate to present her with material to practice on. From now on Lola can expect to hear "Oh, how pretty. Did you make it yourself?" every time she wears a new dress.

Community News

Birthday congratulations to Mrs. Elizabeth Flink, who passed another milestone last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sullivan and their son, Jerry, visited Camp McLean last Sunday. This is a YMCA camp near Burlington, Wis. The camp is divided into three age groups, and each group took part in various contests. The boys are getting swimming lessons, they go horseback riding, they have been getting experience in archery and they are going to get instructions on the rifle range. Tuesday Frank was scheduled to go on an overnight canoe trip on Fox river.

Prospect Gardens Home Owners association had their June meeting at the home of the C. W. Flinks. This was election night, and Mrs. Richard Toemmel was elected president and Mrs. Flink is the new secretary-treasurer. The retiring officers are Frank Smith and Miss Idyl Nipper. After the business meeting refreshments were served, and a congenial social hour was enjoyed.

A Success

The Forest View Community benefit square dance, held Friday, June 18, at South school, was a huge success. We owe thanks especially to our wonderful guide and assistant, Stuart R. Paddock Sr. (the editor) for all the help he gave us, also for printing our tickets free and printing letters to the merchants which were distributed in Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect. To our wonderful callers, Don Finfrock, Phil Berg and Bing Bingson, we owe a debt of gratitude for so generously donating their services, and also to all friends and neighbors who sold tickets, donated groceries for the awards, cupcakes, and their services, towards this dance.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The vital importance of understanding the inspired Word of the Bible spiritually will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christian Science" includes the following selection from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"The Scriptures are very sacred. Our aim must be to have them understood spiritually, for only by this understanding can truth be gained. . . It is this spiritual perception of Scripture, which lifts humanity out of disease and death and inspires faith" (547:23-25, 31-32).

From the King James Version of the Bible the following passages will also be read:

"For ever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven. . . O how love I thy law! it is my meditation all the day. . . Thy testimonies have I taken as an heritage for ever: for they are the rejoicing of my heart" (Psalms 119:89,97,111).

The Golden Text is from Isaiah: "Awake, awake; put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city" (52:1).

COVERAGE AND SPACE IS OUR BUSINESS

Coverage means reaching LOCAL homes, not those in Gary, Rockford or Oquawka . . . Space means advertising lineage which enables the families of 45 full-time employees of Paddock Publications to eat regularly.

About Coverage . . .

Getting out a newspaper has been the job of the Paddock family the past 58 years . . . That original list of less than 500 names when H. C Paddock put his foot in the door in Arlington Heights had grown to 4,500 by 1938, then moved steadily upward to 6,-500 by 1942 . . . During World War II the list climbed to 9,000 when 1,500 servicemen received their paper through the mails.

Modern circulation history has been written since VJ-Day, when a combined distribution of 10,245 as of October 1, 1947 grew to 11,725 two years later . . . In 1951 the number had grown to 13,885 and on up to 15,305 October 1 of last year . . . Latest total taken as of March 6, 1954 reveals THE ASTOUNDNIG GRAND TOTAL OF ALL EIGHT PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS at 16,430.

That's Coverage, boy . . . Coverage of LOCAL HOMES with 9,000 going through the mail slot and 7,000 being picked up at drug stores, food stores, and anywhere else there's room to pile 'em.

Prime example is Arlington Heights where total distribution of the Arlington Heights Herald is just 200 less than the COMBINED TOTAL of all FIVE CHICAGO DAILIES on any weekday.

About Space . . .

Space to a newspaper is advertising lineage, the white space around the news that must be filled to pay 40 LOCAL correspondents gathering news of 21 communities, and 45 LOCAL full time employees . . .

It's the lifeblood of a newspaper and provides local businessmen with the opportunity to "display their wares" . . . To enable them to prosper and sit down to a full table, too.

In the past few months Paddock Publications has established new rate schedules which permit reduced lineage rates for consecutive advertisers, those men who place their name before the public week after week . . . Another step is the proof of ad, mounted on bright yellow posters, for posting in shop windows to all who ask for them . . . Both moves were made to provide advertisers with up - to - date methods of merchandising.

And when you readers enjoy looking over the local paper, taking advantage of many of the bargains offered therein, remember it's your local businessmen who cooperate with Paddock Publications in bringing one of the largest, best-read newspapers to your home 52 weeks of the year.

That's It For Today . . .

We've finished our spiel . . . We'll leave you now in the hope you like the paper, that you'll continue to buy it, and that if you don't like something that's printed, tell us . . . Or better still, tell the Fence Post and let your neighbors hear, too.

Still Deadlocked On New Glenview Library

An absolute deadlock continues to exist between the members of the Glenview library board and the memebrs of the village group as to the approval of plans for the new Glenview library.

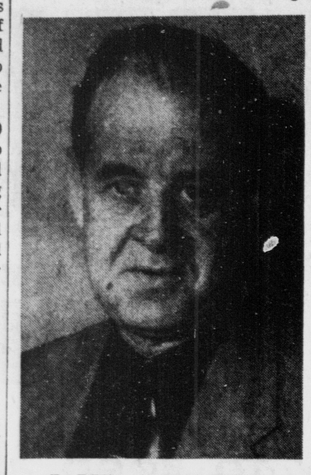
At the last meeting about 30 Glenview citizens were present to discuss the situation, with board members favoring the initialing of the plans drawn up by Maher & McGrew, and the opposers still objecting to many features and presenting alternate ideas on exterior design and floor plan.

Propose New Village Hall For Glen Ellyn

Commenting that village solons must move quickly and soon if the board hopes to start construction of a new village hall in Glen Ellyn this summer, Trustee Ray Matson presented tentative plans for the edifice and asked for suggestions concerning the financing of the hall. Matson disclosed that the building will probably cost in the neighborhood of $100,000. He added that test bids taken on the proposed hall total $96,000.

Meet Arlington Heights Businessmen

Members of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce



ROBERT J. MALCOLM

Robert J. Malcolm, whose business address is 15 N. Hickory st., Arlington Heights, only calls himself a kitchen chemist, but he has made his knowledge of chemistry pay some good dividends.

He has been a resident of Arlington Heights twelve years at 311 E. Rockwell. His days are usually ten hours long at 15 N. Hickory st., which is the address of the Aetna Supply Co., which he organized after the close of World War II.

About his only relaxation is the Breakfast Club where the spirited remarks of fellow members act as a mind tonic.

Malcolm is an eastern lad who came west. His home was in New York. When the end of World War II closed the market for war supplies which his company was providing Uncle Sam, he looked for new worlds to conquer. He started with the manufacture of initials to be affixed by dealers to leather goods. Seeking an adhesive for their use, he discovered an adhesive formula which is today the basis of his business. Those initials are now being used by 20,000 dealers throughout the United States. However their manufacture has become a sort of sideline.

It was destined that the secret adhesive formula that Mr. Malcolm had found should become of greater commercial use. At the suggestion of a large manufacturer, Mr. Malcolm began supplying manufacturers of electrical equipment with their brand plates, the special adhesive making possible their easy attaching to the manufactured product.

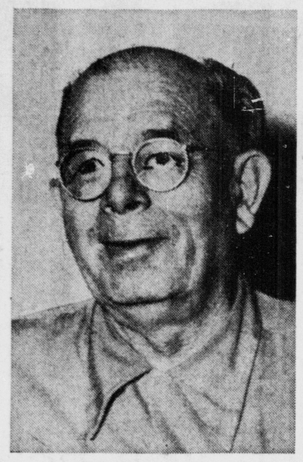
Mr. Malcolm's introduction to Arlington Heights was when he purchased a home here. His next move was the establishment of his business here in a rented building. It may not be generally known, but the toy for making bubbles in the air was first invented and produced by him in Arlington Heights.

A new market for the adhesive was born when a manufacturer of radios suggested that the adhesive be used to affix trim to his product. It proved successful and an almost inexhaustible field has opened up.

The Aetna Supply Co. moved into its own building last fall where over 30 persons are employed.

Mr. Malcolm says, "I never want to reside in any other town than Arlington Heights. I do not want a better location for my business. The only thing remaining to wish for is a passable street to my plant."

Mr. Malcolm's family comprises Mrs. Malcolm and a son, Bill, 17.



GEORGE E. PALMER

George E. Palmer, who has been identified with plumbing and heating in Arlington Heights since 1926, says he has a code of ethics that makes both himself and his customers happy. That code comprises four words, "promptness and efficient workmanship."

George was attracted to Arlington Heights by the "prospective boom days," in this area. He survived the depression that followed and while there is, today, a lot of business in his line, the 1926-28 boom that busted in 1930 is too fresh in his memory for him to wish for a repeat.

There has been a lot of changes in the plumbing and heating trade since George started to wipe joints in his apprentice days. The State laws are strict and the average citizen wants good workmanship.

George believes in two vacations a year. In the winter time he likes to go fishing in the South; in the summer time to go fishing up North. He also believes that every man should take an interest in politics. That interest caused him to be a candidate for village trustees several years ago. He was not successful but that did not dim his interest in local affairs. He signed the petition for a return to two-way streets, but now wishes he hadn't. He favors Campbell st. widening, but is against parking meters.

Mr. Palmer served as Legion commander in 1928 and again in 1938. He has been a member of the Masonic fraternity 38 years. He has a son, who will complete his apprentice training this summer, and a daughter, Helen, who resides in Ohio. The Palmer establishment has been located at 19 W. Campbell 14 years.

Des Plaines Again Tables Rerouting Of 62

Among 85 persons gathered in the Des Plaines city council chambers for the public meeting on rerouting state route 62 from Algonquin rd. to Oakton st. The meeting was called as a result of a petition which objected to the re-routing and was presented the city recently by south side residents, and resulted in table action.

Mayor Kenneth Meyer told the assembly the matter of re-routing has been pending for six years. He said the state has finally approved the change and given its OK, a vote to reconsider passed after the petition was presented.

Styptic Pencils Stop Blood, But Damage Fabrics, Too

Those styptic pencils designed to stop the flow of blood when hubby nicks himself while shaving can also damage fabrics. That's why the American Institute of Laundering, educational and research center of the laundry industry, cautions all males and wives who look after them to keep that styptic pencil away from shirts, undershirts and towels in the bathroom.

Alum, one of the ingredients in such pencils is the culprit that causes holes to develop in any fabrics with which it comes in contact.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

Several weeks ago, the author of this column asked a number of religious leaders in this area to submit for use in this space some remarks in answer to the question, "What may the coming meeting of the World Council of Churches (at Evanston, August 15-29) mean to your denomination?"

Today, we have an answer to this question on behalf of the Evangelical and Reformed church. It has been prepared by the Rev. Robert F. Klepper, pastor of the Community church of Prospect Heights. Other answers will be printed in the weeks leading up to the World Council meetings.

Prospect Heights Community church is both a community church and a member of the Evangelical and Reformed denomination. The congregation at Prospect Heights is composed of families from more than a dozen different denominational backgrounds. Yet one denomination has supported us financially to the tune of many thousands of dollars. How can this be? The answer indicates why we are interested in the World Council of Churches.

OUR SITUATION reflects a general spirit which makes us, along with others, extremely interested in church cooperation. Anything that represents churches acting together or uniting in common purposes is a blessing directly from heaven. The cooperation going on through the World Council is such a blessing. Why do we feel this way?

We feel this way because of what we believe. First of all we believe in Jesus Christ, and that He came for our salvation. But we are not the first He has saved. Nor are we the last. To be grateful for God's salvation makes us one with thousands in previous generations and with countless to come and with other thousands of persons today whom we may not know but who believe as we do.

Today we feel united with fellow Christians throughout the world. Recent events of the world have made us feel this way and so have helped shape the possibilities of our World Council of Churches. The necessities of world service during the last war made us aware of the needs of fellow Christians in many places. Our minds had been opened to this possibility before because of the work of missionaries.

OFTEN CHRUCH cooperation begins in the mission field. There we see the need for unity and often are forced to cooperate to do a creditable job. We have not been converting people to a denominational cause. We have been working for Christ, and through this work have had communion with Christians of various viewpoints. We have learned that the interchange between people is valuable. The vitality of our faith has been maintained through our missionary interest. The vitality of our faith has been upheld by the interchange of thoughts and intercommunication of Christian believers throughout the world. The coming meetings of the World Council are possible because of centuries of missionary activity.

Because we have had a taste of what communion and communication with others can mean, we look forward to the meetings in August at Evanston because they represent a singular possibility for the interchange of Christian thinking.

Throughout history movements which brought people in contact with others of different heritages made for the progress of the world. The disaster of the crusades had one benefit quite apart from the intention of the crusaders—it brought them in contact with people of other traditions and therefore enriched the whole world.

THE WORLD Council Assembly in Evanston provides us an opportunity for a rich interchange between people of various nations and cultural traditions. This is going to be valuable for us. There will be something for us to absorb, some thoughts that clarify our view of life or our expressions of Christianity.

The Evangelical and Reformed church is one, though not the only one, which looks forward to the enriching possibilities for our souls through the interchange of personalities who will be among us in Evanston. We had a Reformation heritage before. Many of those who will be coming to Evanston will be coming from countries which were the very scene of the Reformation itself. They will be coming from countries in which there were major religious developments which are in the background of our own American heritage. To meet again church representatives and leaders from these countries will be like meeting again other members of our own family for whom we are grateful and on whom we have greatly depended.

This is destined to be an enriching and inspiring experience. Usually the interchange of people having various backgrounds leads to a discovery of what matters are most important. We are forced to overlook dividing details and think of more essential matters of the spirit which unite us. We of the Evangelical and Reformed church are proud to participate in the activities of the coming World Council because we believe this attention to the deeper spiritual realities of our Christian heritage and Christian task is destined to increase the vitality of our churches.

Those Big "Little" Things

Many people tell us there is "something different" about a Lauterburg & Oehler service. MAC SAYS

BY G. A. McELROY

WITH PALATINE YOUNG PEOPLE more or less restricted in the chance to use the swimming pool facilities at nearby Arlington Heights and Barrington, the question of a Palatine park district pool is under serious consideration. The Park Board is investigating costs of various types of pools and giving the matter careful study.

One idea advanced is that of a 12 month pool constructed for indoor use during the school year as well as the summer months. Such an idea would mean a tripling of its use through physical education classes in high school and grade school.

One of the problems faced by the park board is that only the village and close in subdivisions are in the park district, yet a pool paid for by about half the users through taxes would be used by the whole township. There are some who think if a pool is constructed a greater part of the township will join the park area.

In the high school, as an example, about 60% of the students enrolled live outside the park district. About half of the grade school children would be in the same classification.

Certainly the crying need for summer recreation in Palatine is a swimming pool and tennis courts. We hope the park board puts the matter of a bond issue before the public soon in order that these facilities may be ready for use by the time another summer season arrives.

THE HUGE PILES OF DIRT beside the Palatine high gym have finally disappeared and new sports fields are in the making. Included in the project, which is just about completed, is the extension of the track straightaway to make a 220 for dashes and hurdles.

GLEN DAVIS of Barberton, Ohio, won the state track championship single handed by scoring 20 points in the state meet. Davis won the 220,, low hurdles, and broad jump and took fourth in the 100 yard dash.

Davis was all-Ohio back in football last fall, but due to a shoulder dislocation, had to wear a wide strap across his chest with supporting straps over the shoulders and a chain connected to his right elbow.

Davis was Barberton's only state entry but they had enough to take the title. The feat of Davis could not occur in Illinois where a competitor is limited to two individual events.

COACH DICK WELTY had 20 boys earn varsity letters in track at Palatine this past season and 16 of them will be returning for 1955. Only seniors are Norman Stenzel, Carl Nuss, Paul Hess, and Bill Breyer. Eight juniors, six sophs, and two freshmen won letters.

In addition, 12 other frosh-sophs won minor awards and will help give the Pirates a very well balanced 1955 track squad. Stenzel and Nuss, who each broke two conference records, and Paul Hess, who won the 880, have applied for admission to Dubuque university. Bill Breyer has enrolled at Northwestern.

JOHN SCIACCA, basketball coach and assistant in football at Wauconda high school, has accepted a similar position at Harvard high school. Wauconda finished fourth in the Northwest conference last winter, but beat Antioch once and Grant three times, though these teams tied for the championship.

Ben Floyd in basketball and Joe Pechulis in football were honored this year at Antioch as most valuable performers in their respective sports.

DICK WINTERBAUER, now an Arlington Heights high school grad, was proclaimed first among all high school discus throwers as compiled by National Track and Field News magazine, based on his best toss of 175' 5½" in the discus . . . He also rated sixth in the nation in the shot at 57' 2 3/8" among high school boys . . .

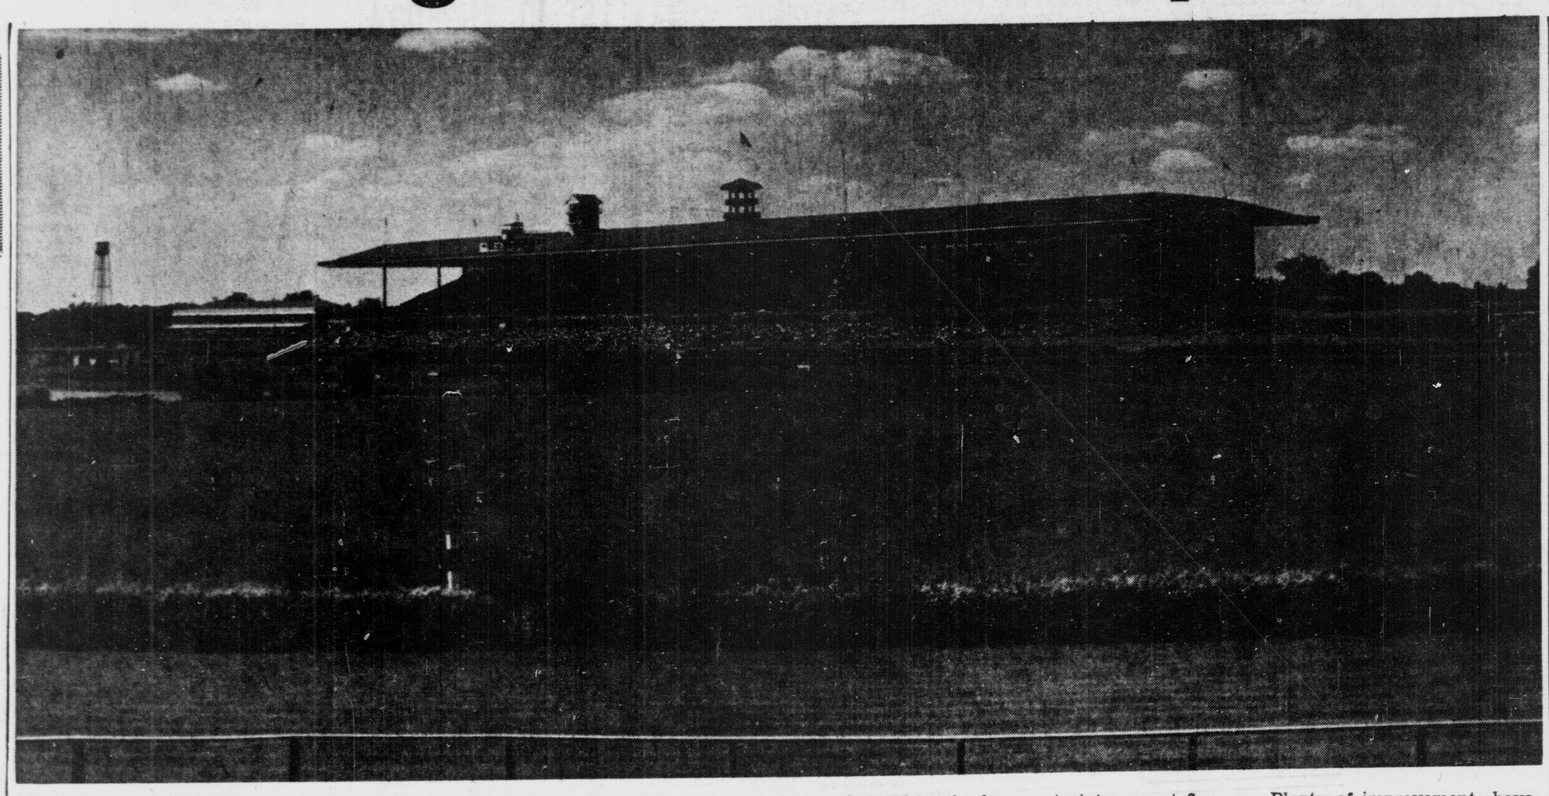
Joe Garagiola, personable Chicago Cub catcher, works at Stan Musial's restaurant in St. Louis in the off-season . . . Twelve-year-old bat boy for the Dodgers at St. Paul farm club is John McGraw . . . Jimmy Dykes has tried 20 different batting orders for his Baltimore Orioles . . . The first place purse at Tam O'Shanter this year will be $100,000, quite an increase since George S. May's first prize award of $11,000 in 1941 . . .

The prize won't be that big, but the spirit will still be there when Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap golf tournament comes off Sunday, August 15, at Inverness country club . . .

First place teams of eight local twilight golf leagues will be eligible to compete for the large traveling team trophy, plus individual medals to the four winning golfers . . . One dozen golf balls will go to the low individual net, as last year . . . The tourney is an inter-league team affair, not an individual event, and includes one "No. 4 golfer" on each squad, the type of duffer who never enters a tournament of any kind . . .

In fact, not many of the "No. 1 golfers" consistently enter links tourneys and the tournament was specifically designed to give "also-rans" just as much of a chance to win a medal as the boys who rate the headlines week after week . . .

Entered in the Illinois state amateur golf tournament at Urbana this week are H. J. Hodgson of Palatine, F. J. Hertel of Arlington Heights, both representing Inverness . . . Arlington's Dick Hauff was eliminated after qualifying in the Western Jr. Open at Champaign, is now at Tallahassee, Florida, for a tournament starting Thursday of this week.



The racing season at Arlington Park will be on again Thursday afternoon of this week when the horses start to run at 2 p. m. Plenty of improvements have been made in the grandstand, clubhouse, and plant at the park, but the real challenge is still at the $2 window, escalators or no escalators. Pictured above is the overall scene with the area's most beautiful landscaping in front of the grandstand. Possibly the biggest news for most of the racing fans approaching the track from the south will be the hundreds of homes in Rolling Meadows and Westgate subdivisions on land that was vacant a year ago.

Red Sox Blast Horsehide At .472 Clip In Hts. Little League

by BOB FRISK

The red hot, rampaging Red Sox, new American division leaders, are the "toast of the town" in Arlington Heights Little League circles, as they continue to bombard their opponents with a devastating hitting attack.

Excluding the game scheduled for Wednesday night with the Yankees, the powerful Red Sox had blasted 44 hits in their last three tilts and compiled a .472 team batting average. In their winning streak of four games, the Sox tallied 48 runs for a twelve per game average. Over the season they've scored 64 runs in six games.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 16, Phil Gustafson pitched and batted the league leaders to a 7-4 win over the Yanks. Hitting from the cleanup spot in a lineup that's remained intact almost all season, Phil pounded a homer and one other hit in two at bats for a perfect day. His mound performance showed seven strikeouts, three walks, and a yield of six hits. Ed Becker turned in a 3 for 3 game and Paul McNurlen hit safely twice in two official trips to the plate.

Saturday's battle for the top spot in the American League was a real slugfest. The White Sox, leaders most of the season, needed a win to stay on top, but the booming Red Sox bats banished that hope in three innings and eventually ground out a 15-7 victory.

SEVEN RUNS crossed the plate in the third for the winners with Ed O'Gara's two out, bases loaded single keeping the rally alive. Dave Brodnan hurled the full six segments for the victors, fanning eight and walking six.

Monday night in A.L. action the White Sox moved within one half game of the top as they stopped the lowly Athletics, 6-3. Determined now after a season long slump, the A's promised their manager they would WIN the next game played! They'll get the chance to make good Saturday against the strong Red Sox.

Rusty Blix, Rich Miller, and John Taylor each collected three hits for the winning White Sox and defensively the infield turned in a third to first double play.

TUESDAY night Ben Fleury's first place Cardinals turned on the power to shell the Dodgers, 13-2, in a five inning game. All thirteen Card counters came in the third frame with pitcher Don Gerken's three run homer the big smash. The winner's Bill Harrington punched out 3 straight hits.

Gerken went three innings in the rout and fanned eight to bring his season mark to 51 strikeouts in 22 innings. The only hit off Don was a homer by Dick Meyer.

It was decided at the game Tuesday that the protested tilt a week earlier would be played off from the beginning at a later date.

16 Escolators To Speed Two Dollar Bills From The Seats To Mutuels

The eyes of the sports world will focus on Arlington Park Thursday, when thoroughbred racing's richest summer meeting gets off to a brilliant start.

Now starting its twenty-eighth year, Arlington Park will be more modern and beautiful than ever with luxurious and comfortable surroundings that are unsurpassed in all sports. It's part of a $2,300,000 improvement program which includes escalators, new mutuel facilities and completely redesigned interiors at Arlington Park and its south suburban twin track, Washington Park.

Thursday's opener will inaugurate a 35-day stand during which Arlington Park will play host to literally every top-level horse, stable and jockey in America. They will be shooting at some $3,700,000 gross, to be distributed during the 65-day coordinated meeting with Washington Park, via 28 stakes worth a total of $1,140,000 and approximately $30,000 a day in overnight purses. The program, designed by Executive Director Benjamin E. Lindheimer, is the richest in Illinois history.

Arlington Park officials Sunday were hosts to racing fans, the press, television and radio and racing dignitaries in an open house.

Fans will be able to arrive by train, auto or bus at eigher clubhouse or grandstand entranceways and be whisked from the ground to the top floor of the massive stands via escalators.

During the afternoon patrons also will now be able to ride down to the scenic paddock area, take in the pre-race color and activity, then ride right back to their seats for the next race.

THE ENTIRE PLANT has been modernized, redecorated and redesigned. There are new mutuel facilities, more spacious and convenient than ever; new refreshment stands, new lighting, floors and new lounges.

Automobile parking will be no problem at Arlington. There is supervised, well-tended space for over 15,000 cars right on the track's own grounds. Motorists who park on the far lots on major days will be transported to and from the stands free evia modern busses.

IN ADDITION, crews cruise the parking areas to repair flat tires or minor motor troubles at no charge to the fans. Parking is only 25 cents at both Arlington-Washington, with no tipping permitted.

Top-level racing also is on the docket for the 1954 Arlington meeting, opening Thursday with the 12th running of the $15,000 Primer Stakes. A record total of 55 two-year olds, many among the best in training, have been named for the five-and-one-half furlong inaugural.

Among the leading juveniles named are Beau Busher, recent West Coast stakes winner; a strong Hasty House Farm trio of Prince Noir, Silver Robby and Alspal; Maine Chance Farm's well-bred sextet headed by Fantine. Busher, and three Clifford Mooers representatives — Serry, Traffic Judge, and Howdy Man.

A co-feature to the Primer will be the $7,500 Doris Day Purse, honoring the presence of one of America's leading ladies of song and movies. Miss Day made a special trip to Chicago just to take active part in the afternoon's festivities. A field of seasoned sprinters, four-years old and up, will compete in the six furlongs test.

NEXT SATURDAY'S big event will be the fourth running of the $25,000 added Warren Wright Memorial Stakes. This race honors the memory of the late master of Calumet Farm, one of racing's greatest stables and one of the founding members of Arlington Park.

During his many years in the sport, Mr. Wright was a regular Arlington visitor watching his devil's red and blue silks flash to victory astride such greats as Whirlaway, Armed, Citation, Coaltown, Bewitch, Wistful, Twilight Tear, Two Lea, and Ponder.

Northlake Edges Poole Fords In Legion Ball

Arlington's American Legion baseball team came out on the short end of a 2 to 1 score in Saturday's game with Northlake. The loss left the locals with a 1 and 1 record in league play to date.

Both pitchers turned in excellent performances. Dunnill, Northlake pitcher, allowed only three singles, walked only three and struck out three, while Bob Charles of Arlington gave up three hits, walked three and struck out three.

ARLINGTON took a one run lead in the first inning on a single by Larry Fischer, who got two of Arlington's three hits, a walk to Denny Maher and a single by Dick France. Northlake scored one in the fifth to tie the game, and then pushed over another in the sixth on a very timely hit by Nissien, Northlake receiver.

Arlington was able to get a man to second in the seventh but was unable to score.

The locals meet Franklin Park Thursday at Recreation park and Portage Park at Portage Park.

Registrations Open For Dog Training Club

Northwest Obedience club, dog training group formed last fall, is now accepting registrations for the August class. Anyone interested in training his dog may go to the Palatine firehouse in Palatine Friday nights to register.

There are almost all breeds enrolled in this beginning class, from the saucy toy poodles to the imposing great danes. Contrary to the usual suspension of activity in club work for the summer, dog training picks up as one can work outdoors in the cool evenings.

At the last meeting of the Northwest club at the home of the Dee Musters, two members of the beginners' class that graduated in April were proposed for membership. Mrs. E. Lynch whose dalmation is now in intermediate training, and R. L. Muchow of Des Plaines whose weimerearner is also continuing training.

Requirements for membership is a sincere interest in the training of a purebred dog, evidenced by the completion of the three month beginners training. Anyone interested in registering his dog by mail should write to the Northwest Obedience training club, Palatine, for application.

Westfall's Two Under Par Leads Stop & Sock To Rob Roy Golf Win

Raliegh Westfall got off to a bad start with a bogey on the first in Rob Roy golf league play. Then he proceded to give old man par a beating. Not only did he take low gross for the night but added the low net of 32 for double honors.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS Service station came back this week with vengeance in their eyes and took it out on Rhodes Appliance by beating them, 7-0. This victory moved the Gas House gang up four places in the standings. Not only that, but it was noted a couple of the players were looking to see if there was a rematch on the schedule with the Cleaners. Sorry, fellas, but if it wasn't for the position night you would have had the opportunity on the last night of league play.

L-Nor Cleaners stayed out in front of the league by beating Prospect Heights Pharmacy, 4½-2½. Johnny Brennan should have brought along a little bigger bottle of energy pills for his men The matches were close and a little more oomph might have done the trick.

WHEELING BOWLING Lanes has finally analyzed the difference in type of ball used for golf. Tonight they set back Whitton Realty, 6-1. Again it was Bozik who put the punch in the victory by scoring low gross and net of the match.

Smith and Dawson put together three match victory and three low total points to beat Webber Paint, 6-1. Dave Borgardt played a big part in this victory with his net 34.

MICHAEL'S IGA kept pace with the leaders by trouncing Dunteman Dairy 6-1. No denying that the grocery lads were carrying the bacon and got home safely, but the milk men have been playing good golf and somewhere along the line they are bound to meet teams not having their best night of the season.

Kirchhoff Insurance, with help of their new member, Don Mueller, took their match with Koske Excavators, 6-1. Don fired a 39 gross, 34 net to win two of the six points for the Insurance team.

Reverse Order For Stock Car Races At Soldier Field

A new order of auto racing events, requested by the fans, will be seen in the stock car races at Soldier Field Friday and Sunday nights.

The revamping of the sequence of the races places all of the hard-driving straight races in the foremost part of the program with the demolition events to wind up the eight events each night. By placing the heat races, the new type trophy dash, the men's amateur and the feature races among the first events, the track would be good and comparatively clean for the best efforts of the drivers before the demolition events.

Roy Czach continued to be the leader in the point standings followed by Gene Marmor, Al Shear, Dave Hirschfield, "Skippy" Michaels and Tom Pistone.

Kruses Retake 1st In Tuesday Golf At Mt. Pros.

Showing a neat reversal of form, Kruse's Schlitz team returned to first place Tuesday in the Mount Prospect twilight golf league by shellacking fourth place Mount Prospect Lions, 7½-2½. The Lions suffered a severe case of the shakes in meeting the champs and it was another case of a match being lost rather than won.

Meanwhile, Mount Prospect Jewelers scraped through a close one with Winkelman's Shell Service, 4½-5½ which was good enough to give them second place but not enough to keep them in the coveted first position, which they had held for a brief one week.

Busse Motors continued in third place after administering a 6½ to 3½ licking to K. R. Whitton, Realtors.

Birdies were scored by: R. Whiteley, No. 1; H. Baylis, No. 8; R. Payne, No. 12; H. Jauch and R. Manchester, No. 15.

HEADING list is Hasty House Farm's Preakness winner, Hasty Road, along with his stablemate Sea O'Erin. Denny Zapp Twirls No-Hitter In Arlington Pony League

by BOB FRISK

The Indians' pint-sized Paul Incapreo may be making the most impressive week-by-week performances with his effective mound chores and heavy bat, but the biggest news in Arlington's Pony League competition came last Thursday in the person of rangy Denny Zapp who twirled a five inning no-hitter as the Orioles blasted the Phillies, 13-3.

Zapp and his battery mate, Ed Kelley, grabbed all the headlines in the abbreviated tilt with Kelley connecting for a grand slam home run in the third frame.

SOMEWHAT DAMPENING the hitless job was the control trouble experienced by Zapp. Denny walked five in the first inning, and an error by the catcher gave the Phillies a quick 3-0 lead. But George Schaefer's Orioles, making a bid for second place in the league, pecked away at the loser's Bob Lockwood and Jim Meehan with one, one, four, and seven runs in their respective four innings of offense.

As of Monday, with the Indians boasting a 3-1 mark and leading the four team pack by one game, Incapreo was the talk of the league with a spectacular .727 batting average that included two doubles, one triple, two home runs and he also owned a 2-0 pitching slate. The "mighty mite" had allowed only one run in 13 innings.

PAUL BROKE a first place deadlock, June 16, chucking a one hitter and besting the Redlegs Jerry Klement, 3-1. Reds' Jim Kaspar collected the only hit off Incapreo who struck out 13. Klement fanned 15.

Friday the Phillies and Indians battled to a 4-4 tie in a game called on account of darkness after five innings.

With their blond southpaw, Jim Peery on the hill, the Phillies routed the Orioles, 7-1, for their first Pony League win, June 15. Orioles' right fielder, Allan Dahl, slammed a triple for the game's long hit. Batting honors went to Phillies' Ken Hadland, who pounded out two safeties in three trips to the plate.

Little Leaguers Win, Lose

Wheeling Chamber of Commerce Little League team lost to the Mt. Prospect Builders 9 to 4 on Friday. Leakley led the Builders with a perfect day at bat, getting three hits in three times at bat. Dan Striegel led the losers with two hits out of three at bat. Richard Ravis also made two hits.

On Monday the Amvets evened the local rivalry by winning over the Chambers 8 to 4. Bob Erickson and Don Mielke gave up five hits apiece in pitching their first ball games of the season. Dan Striegel led the Chambers with 2 for 3 and Eddie Scanlon led the Amvets with 2 for 3 also.

Mt. Prospect Merchants Whip VFW Little League

by BETTY KIRCHHOFF

Mt. Prospect Merchants Little League team, won their fifth game of the season, Friday evening, June 18. They accomplished this fete against the Mt. Prospect VFW. When the final out was made the Merchants had eight runs, the VFW none.

Fritzie Peterson, who already had two victories stashed away this season, made it three. He struck out nine to raise his league leading total to 24. He walked six. Fritzie would have had a no-hitter if Mike Francek hadn't smashed a single in the second.

Dennis Hahn was the losing pitcher. Chuck Staral and Bill Zadel slammed round-trippers for the Merchants. George Bork, the Merchants' short stop, seems to have picked three as his lucky number.

He was at bat three times, scored three runs, and had three hits to lead the Merchants in runs scored and hits for the night.

Tipping Tractor Can Be A Killer

A search for a lost shovel ended in death recently for a northern Illinois farmer whose tractor tipped into a drainage ditch and crushed him.

This is only the beginning of a long procession of such accidents, judging from 1953 figures, says Wendell Bowers, University of Illinois Agricultural engineer. Thirteen Illinois farmers died last year when their tractors tipped over, and another 72 were injured. That's an average of nearly one tractor-tipping accident per county.

Keeping away from ditches, cutting your speed before making a turn and keeping brake pedals locked together when in road gear will help to keep you from becoming a "statistic." And keep the rear wheel spacing as wide as possible, especially when working on steep slopes.

Help For Injured

There are now 32 approved schools of physical therapy in the United States, according to the statistical division of Employers Mutuals of Wausau. Graduates of these schools are engaged in the increasingly important work of rehabilitation of injured workers and the return of these persons to useful employment. Twenty-eight of these schools are co-educational.

New McCormick No. 16 heavy-duty high-clearance plow shown here plowing a strip six feet, eight inches wide. According to International Harvester, it is ruggedly built to plow as much as 16 inches deep in the toughest soils, such as adobe or heavy sod. Frame and beams are of two and three-quarter-inch I-shaped beam stock. Bridge-truss bracing distributes strain and shock over the entire frame. The plow also has a new-type rear wheel easily adjusted to three directions. The plow is pulled by the McCormick Super WD-9 58 horsepower wheel-type tractor.

June Critical Time In Egg Prices

June is a critical time for egg prices, as the market adjusts from the flush springtime supply to the short, hot weather supply.

Here's how Emer Broadbent, poultry marketing specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, explains it. Egg-breaking plants are now shutting down as the supply dwindles, and for a few weeks prices will be a little lower. The plants process the surplus eggs of the spring season and store them for the slack season.

When hot weather hits the supply will drop. That should cause a sharp rise in prices. But at the same time, Broadbent explains, the low quality of many eggs coming to market will act as a brake on prices.

So what will happen is that prices of graded eggs will rise sharply and will continue to rise until October, while current-receipt prices will not rise so much.

Most producers won't be able to take advantage of the high prices, Boardbent explains. They won't be getting enough eggs in the hot-weather to develop quality egg outlets. But they can plan to take advantage of the hot-weather market next year by buying chicks early enough to get their high production in the high price months.

Here Are Ways For Tenants To Improve Farm Leases

Tenants think farm lease arrangements could be improved, and 112 of them have told how in a survey in northeastern Illinois.

F. J. Reiss, University of Illinois Farm economist, reports that the suggestions fall under five headings—more security, better arrangements for making farm improvements, better ways for sharing expense, more flexible cash rents and a chance to climb the tenure ladder.

For more security, tenants want written leases, both to protect their interests and to give a better base for working relations. They also want to stay on farms longer and be able to rest assured that they can.

Many tenants would like to fix up things around the farm. And they would if they knew they could stay long enough to get their value back or that they would be paid for them when they left.

Expense sharing, between landlord and tenant, is complicated at best, and Reiss says that is another thing many tenants feel needs to be improved.

Falling farm prices have created a problem for cash-rent farmers. They would rather have their rent based on bushels of corn or gallons of milk then on dollars, especially now that farm dollars are a little scarcer.

And like everyone else, Reiss says, tenants want a chance to better themselves, to move to a better position on the tenancy scale and eventually either to own a farm or to own all it takes to operate one.

Find Artificially Sired Cows Are High Producers

Artificially sired calves are developing into high-producing, profitable dairy cows on many Illinois farms, says Farm Adviser, Carl F. Mees.

Dairy Herd Improvement Association records show that these artificially sired cows are producing nearly twice as much butterfat as the average dairy cow in Illinois.

C. S. Rhode, of the University of Illinois Department of Dairy Science, checked DHIA production records of 1,205 daughters of bulls now in service at the Northern Illinois Breeding Co-op at Hampshire. The daughters averaged 12,492 pounds of milk and 470 pounds of butterfat.

This 470-pound average for butterfat compares with 255 pounds produced by the average cow in Illinois or with a 413 pound average for all cows on DHIA test, says Mees. All records were figured on the basis of mature cows.

Dairymen in Cook county are served by the Northern Illinois Breeding Co-op, which is one of two cooperatives in Illinois. The high production of the Artificially sired cows, makes it possible for dairymen to reduce production costs and increase their net incomes.

College Of Agriculture To Hold Open House At Urbana

Farm families and anyone else who is interested in seeing the inside workings of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture are cordially invited to attend the three open house tours this summer.

Dates are Wednesday, June 30; Friday, July 30; and Tuesday, August 31. Families are especially welcome.

Three separate dates have been selected this year, college officials say, so that all who wish can visit the University farms and facilities. These dates will also let visitors who attend all three see various stages in the development of crops, livestock and other experimental work.

Organized tours of the college will start each day at 9 a.m. CST (10 a.m. DST) at the Morrow Plots at the corner of Mathews street and Gregory drive, Urbana. On rainy days visitors will report to Room 135, Animal Sciences Laboratory, located at the same corner.

Tours will include visits to the Morrow Plots, the oldest soil experiment field in the U. S. Animal Sciences Laboratory, Horticulture greenhouses and plots, Agriculture Engineering Research Laboratory, Agronomy South farm with its experiments in field crops and soils, special tillage experiments and informal visits to the dairy, beef swine, horse and sheep barns.

Guided tours are scheduled to end at 4 p.m. DST, but visitors will be invited to stay and inspect the building and facilities as long as they wish. Families are urged to bring a picnic basket and lunch at Illini Grove, the picnic area on the campus. Others will find lunch available at the Illini Union building or in nearby restaurants.

Because salt water absorbs light, an undersea target is only six per cent as visible as one in clean air, Westinghouse engineers report. Ultra-violet rays in light pass through sea water fairly well, but the heat rays are absorbed.

'Save Your Soil For Illinois' 1954 Contest

If the old saying, "Good things come in small packages" is true, then it can truthfully be said that the small number of entries in this years "Save Your soil for Illinois" contest showed many "good things" insofar as sound farm management practices is concerned.

First of all, the judges wish to express their sincere thanks for the opportunity to have served as judges: It was indeed heartening to see the friendship and close feeling of cooperation which exists between the local soil conservationist Maurice M. Umbdenstock and the farm cooperators. It was easy to see that may hours of planning and work had been done to accomplish the many sound practices which have been put into effect.

It was a very close contest the contestants have put many worthwhile practices into operation. The chief basis for selection of the winner was based on:

1. A well organized plan for farming operations, taking into consideration the physical resources of the farm.
2. Progress made in establishment of soil conservation program.
3. Improved standard of living as a direct result of increased income from conservation farming, part of which is reflected in the general appearance and neatness of the farm.

Harvey Pohlman was selected as the winner because it was felt that his program had advanced a little more into the operational stage than the others. The cooperators have quite a varied number of soil types and have some rather pronounced slopes which calls for a lot of engineering, so to speak, in order to put the respective programs into sound operation.

The judges were impressed with the enthusiasm shown by the cooperators and their soil conservationist in explaining their respective programs; what they had done, what they were now doing, and what they hoped to do in the future. There may have been only one winner in this contest, but the judges couldn't help but feel that all who participated were winners. Anytime a farmer takes the time and effort to study, plan, and put into practice the program as set down by his district soil conservation man he is making progress, and can truthfully be classified as a winner.

Wisconsin Realtor

Named president of the Walworth county board of realtors this month was H. E. Gilbert of Elkhorn, Wisconsin.

Gilbert has been in the real estate business since 1939, is licensed in both Wisconsin and Illinois, and was graduated from Beloit college in 1933.

Soil Experimental Group To Hold Field Meeting

Cook County farmers will have a chance to observe results of good soil management and cropping practices at the Joliet Soil Experiment Field in Will County, July 1, 1954. The meeting will start at 1:30 DST.

Farm Adviser Carl F. Mees says the work at the experiment field demonstrates the need for good soil management and balanced fertility practices.

The Joliet Field is operated by the University of Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station. Plots have been set up to test manure, limestone, crop residues, phosphate and potash treatments. The value of different treatments has been determined by increased yields of corn, soybeans, wheat, oats and hay.

Mees says University of Illinois crops and soils specialists will be on hand to discuss soil fertility problems and to answer questions on the use of fertilizers for soil and crop improvement.

Urges Adoption Of Reapportionment For Illinois

Senatorial reapportionment in Illinois is 43 years overdue, and should be supported by everyone who believes that one man's vote should be as important as another's.

This statement was made by John K. Cox, secretary of general services for the Illinois agricultural association. The IAA is the state-wide Farm Bureau organization with more than 200,000 members.

The reapportionment amendment to the state constitution will be submitted to voters at the November 2 general election.

Cox said some state legislators who would have an additional county added to their districts or who might be squeezed out entirely by reapportionment, would most likely oppose the amendment.

"THEY MAY TRY to influence people to vote down the amendment by telling them the action would turn control of the legislature over to Chicago. That is not true," Cox said.

"Acceptance of the amendment would mean that all citizens would have equal representation in the house. It would mean that downstate would dominate the Senate," he pointed out.

The senate would have 34 downstate districts, 18 in Chicago, and 6 in Cook county, outside Chicago. The house would have 29 downstate districts, 23 in Chicago, and 7 in Cook county, outside Chicago.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Remarks Of North Cook Conservationist

As conservationist for the North Cook County Soil Conservation District, I would like to clarify one thing, says Maurice Umbdenstock. I do not set up the program for the cooperators to follow. I do, however, give them technical assistance in determining the different rotations, and practices, if needed, to prevent or at least reduce erosion under the varying conditions of the land. The cooperator must make up his mind whether he wants to follow one of these practices or rotations and save his soil, fertilizer and expense or use something else that will be more costly in the long run.

A soil conservation farm plan is not a short term operation. It is a plan for the future and one with a goal to work toward. You can't achieve this goal by putting it off until tomorrow. That is why these contestants have made great progress already toward this goal. They have worked with the Soil Conservation District for two years.

Mr. Pohlman, winner of the save your soil contest has increased the crop yield on the land he is working and greatly increased his milk production. By following his present plan he will continue to build up his soil as rapidly as possible and increase his yield, thereby improving the farm and helping to make his community a better place in which to live.

In The Future

Give Corn That Needed Nitrogen By Side Dressings On Local Farms

If you think your cropping system has left your soil with a short supply of nitrogen, the chances are that you will get good results from side-dressing your corn.

L. B. Miller, soil fertility specialist at the University of Illinois, says nitrogen side-dressings usually give best results on soils that have been depleted of nitrogen by poor rotations. In addition, corn that is being grown on the soil for the second year may show a good response to the nitrogen.

But Miller warns not to expect a big increase in yields if your corn follows a good growth of legumes that has been plowed under or has had a heavy application of manure. In these cases the supply of nitrogen already in the soil will probably be adequate for top yields.

Experiments on University of Illinois soil experiment fields show that it is not necessary to apply large amounts of nitrogen to get good results. Largest returns per dollar invested have come from side-dressing corn at the rate of 40 to 60 pounds of nitrogen per acre. The nitrogen was applied at the second or third cultivation.

In applying the nitrogen, Miller suggests placing the fertilizers at a distance of 10 to 12 inches from the corn row. Put the fertilizer into the soil, but be careful not to cut the corn roots.

Results obtained from using the different nitrogen carriers have been very similar. If several types are available, choose the one that will cost you the least per pound of actual nitrogen applied to the soil.

Even though nitrogen side-dressings usually give good results, a number of factors may limit crop response. The factors that may cause poor results are severe drought, a poor stand of corn, poor drainage, poor soil tilth and deficiencies of other plant nutrients.

See the SENSATIONAL

Sunbeam FREE WHEELING POWER MOWER

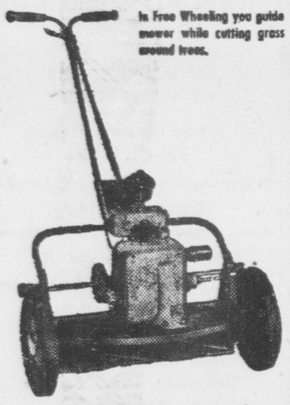
You simply snap down the handle to make mower propel itself without pushing. You raise handle to "free wheel" either forward or backward, for mowing in tight places, under bushes, along edges, or turning corners.

In Free Wheeling you guide mower while cutting grass around trees.



The Sunbeam has no clutch or gears to disengage which cause most of the troubles and servicing with other power mowers. The powerful engine rotates the cutting blades continuously. So light and easy-to-handle a woman or child can run it. Does a perfect job without any concentration on clutch levers, knobs, etc. It's the only lightweight, reel-type power mower with full 21" cutting blade. $159.

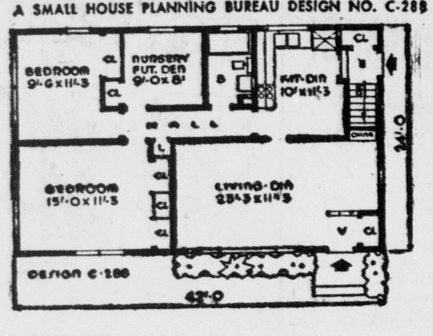
A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. C-288



The most economical type of house to build is a plain rectangular plan without costly projection, using a gable roof without dormers. Here's such a plan, with living room, kitchen, bath, three bedrooms and a full basement. All plumbing for kitchen, bathroom and basement laundry is grouped in one wall and the furnace is located in the center of the basement with resulting short heating ducts.

There is dining space in the kitchen in addition to the dining room formed by the vestibule. Exterior finish on frame consists of wide siding and asphalt shingles with picture window and a brick planting area.

Floor area is 1008 square feet and the cubage is 19,152 cubic feet.

For further information about design C-288, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

'TB Could Be Wiped Out With Teamwork,' Says Dr. Hall

Cook county facilities for the control of tuberculosis are more than adequate, county health department director Dr. John B. Hall said Monday.

"Although the population of suburban Cook county has increased to approximately one million people," Dr. Hall pointed out, "it has been possible since 1949 to hospitalize every tuberculous patient needing such care and treatment."

Said Dr. Hall: "Residents of suburban Cook county are in an enviable position because of the close cooperation among the Cook County Department of Public Health, Suburban Cook County Sanitarium District, and the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county in the control of tuberculosis."

Dr. Hall added that readily accessible chest clinics are in operation at the following suburban hospitals: Harvey Consultation clinic, Little Company of Mary hospital, McNeal Memorial hospital, St. Francis hospital, and St. James hospital. Additional information as to exact location and hours of clinics may be obtained from any of the offices of the county health department, Dr. Hall said.

Dr. Hall concluded: "Tuberculosis can be eradicated but it requires knowledge and active participation by every citizen in every home, every school, every community and in every industry.

"Tuberculosis can be eradicated but it requires the professional help of every worker in every clinic, every hospital, and in every offiical and voluntary health and welfare agency.

"Tuberculosis can be eradicated but it requires teamwork. Teamwork means participation based on knowledge shared with everyone with whom we come in contact."

There's something new in flashlights. If you've ever tried to read a street sign at a distance with a flashlight whose light didn't quite reach or, merely change a fuse in a darkened basement, you'll welcome the new double-duty spot-flood flashlight. This revolutionary new flashlight, which looks like any other you may have been using, has a special built-in "spotlight" for distance seeing and a generous flood of light for close-up jobs. Just a mere flick of the switch can produce a long-concentrated beam of light exactly where you need it many feet away or a flood of light close at hand.

Secret of these amazing new flashlights is a tiny bulb only a little over an inch in length and less than half an inch in diameter. Proof that good things often come in small packages, this newest midget bulb contains two filaments just like your automobile headlights. One filament gives the broad flood of light, the other a narrow beam for lighting distant objects. This new spot-flood flashlight bulb, first of its kind, was developed by the Lamp Division of General Electric Company.

New flashlights, designed especially for the newest spot-flood bulb, are built to enable flashlight users to get two different types of lighting. Because special switch and socket arrangements are necessary with the new two-filament bulb, it will not operate in your present flashlight designed for a one-filament light.

Lightning Rod Is Tree Insurance In Summer Storms

Don't pick a tree for shelter during a summer storm — not even if it's an umbrella tree.

No tree is immune to lightning. And some trees form perfect targets for bolts from the sky. Contrary to popular belief, variety seems to have little or nothing to do with susceptibility to lightning stroke. The taller the tree, the greater the chance that it may get tagged by lightning during an electrical storm.

The best storm insurance for trees is the lightning rod, according to Martin L. Davey, Jr., head of the nation's largest tree service firm.

Each year lightning takes a heavy toll among trees. A properly installed and grounded lightning conductor can turn those deadly bolts from the blue into harmless lights that pass in the night.

How about the installation? Don't you go climb a tree, the experts warn. Installation of lightning rods calls for plenty of experience. It's inadvisable for anyone but an expert to put one up.

If your trees are clustered, the tallest ones should be rodded. Trees around them will be shielded to some degree because of the "cone of protection" provided by a rodded tree. The taller the tree, the wider its cone of protection.

Experience has shown that the biggest and deepest-rooted trees are likely lightning victims. Therefore, more and more home owners are rodding their trees.

Adventitious; not inherent; accidental; casual. (Pronounce adven-tish-us, i as in wish, accent third syllable). "These adventitious happenings must be taken in stride."

Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek, at Norfolk, Va.

Known as TRAMID '54, a contraction of TRAning of MIDshipmen, the instruction features classroom and practical work both ashore and afloat. To climax their training, the midshipmen were integrated into a 35-warship, 14,000-man task force and stormed ashore June 19th with U. S. Des Plaines First Federal Passes Ten Million Mark

When Mr. and Mrs. Oscar C. Seegars, of 1453 Walnut ave., Des Plaines, added $105.48 to their savings account at First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Des Plaines, at 4:55 p.m. on Friday, June 18, that amount, plus the savings of over 6,800 other individuals, raised the institution's total savings past the $10 million mark.

President of the Association, Walter L. Plew, said total savings of the Des Plaines association were only $6.7 million 14 months ago when First Federal moved into its own building at 749 Lee st. in Des Plaines.

"We now have more than 6,800 savings accounts with an average balance of $1,470.00," he said, "and of coruse, a total of over $10,000,000.00 Mr. Seegers, who's addition boosted First Federal's total savings past the $10 million mark, has been a First Federal saver since 1939 and comes from a pioneer Des Plaines family.

His grandfather, John C. Seegers, homesteaded land near Cumberland station in Des Plaines about 1850—after paying the government $1.25 per acre. Many of his descendents, including Mr. Oscar C. Seegers, live in Des Plaines and the northwestern suburbs.

Dear M

We're so excited

finally found the perfect location for year 'round home!!! We're buying one of the big lakeshore lots on LOCH LOMOND at Mundelein, a model suburb just 21 miles from Chicago (easy commuting for Joe). LOCH LOMOND is a beautiful lake — over 2 miles of shoreline, with lots of big trees, a private park and beach, a school next door for Ronnie and Sue, shopping right there, and roads, water system, etc. installed and paid for! There are quality building standards to keep LOCH LOMOND perfect for year 'round living — no resort atmosphere, just natural, unspoiled beauty that we never expected to find so close to Chicago. Will want you to come and visit us as soon as our new house is finished!

by,

...And now, a word from the developers:

These BIG LOTS are NOW AVAILABLE for as low as $250 down.
If everyone knew about the advantages of year 'round living at LOCH LOMOND, there would not be enough homesites to begin to satisfy the demand. You, too, will be just as thrilled, just as enthusiastic when you see LOCH LOMOND! Drive out this weekend: Take Milwaukee Ave. (route 21) or Edens Expressway (U.S. 41) northward to route 176. Turn west on 176 to LOCH LOMOND entrance, just west of Mundelein village limits. (Watch for LOCH LOMOND signs.)

Urge Vaccination To Prevent Children From Contagious Diseases

All children should be immunized against whooping cough, diphtheria and smallpox during their first year of life, a statement from Dr. John B. Hall, director of the Cook County Health Department emphasis.

Dr. Hall pointed out that such immunization is not permanent, however. Revaccination against small pox is recommended every three years throughout life, he said. Diphtheria immunization must also be repeated every three years in a large number of cases, according to Dr. Hall. The health director recommended the frequent use of "Schick tests" to determine the need for re-immunization against diphtheria.

There has been no case of small pox reported in Cook County since 1945, Dr. Hall said, and no diphtheria cases were reported for 1950, 1951, or 1953, but two cases occurred in 1952.

"These diseases smoulder here and there," Dr. Hall emphasized, "and when conditions become favorable, they may break out in a mild or severe form."

Italian Pickpockets Lead Europeans In Drive For Business Of U. S. Tourists

by BILL DILLINGHAM

Although there are pickpockets in every country of Europe, the Italian edition holds the distinction of being the cleverest.

"Three-armed Francisco", operating in Rome, had agents baffled for months. He would enter a trolley car, hold his newspaper in reading position with a false arm, grip an overhead strap with one good arm, and then "work" with his free one. Anybody standing next to him would feel no need to be on guard for a pickpocket from his direction. If at all, they would be watching from a different quarter.

FAVORITE TRICK of some pickpockets is to ride a trolley car that serves to carry people to the main train station just at the time when the international expresses are leaving. It's a good bet the foreigner or the native with his suitcase will be spotted.

When the pickpocket goes to work he feels the additional security of knowing that if he is discovered, chances are his victim won't have time enough to go to the police station and sign a complaint. More probably, since he's in a hurry and would risk missing his train, he'd pass up the opportunity.

ANOTHER TRICK depends for its success on getting the complete attention of the victim. Two men will start an argument, for example, and perhaps even exchange a few blows. With the spectators standing around with their mouths open, one or two pickpockets will go to work.

For this hoax, just about anything of an explosive nature can be used. A fellow beating his girl or wife, two kids threatening each other with knives, a gasoline can in the middle of the street on the verge of explosion, or somebody even faking a faint on the sidewalk is enough to monopolize people's attention.

IN COUNTRIES other than Italy, however, the pickpockets exercise less imagination and are more easily controlled by the police. They conform to very standard methods and generally end up in jail without too much police effort. Local citizens effect most of the arrests.

There is one characteristic of the Italian pickpocket that distinguishes him from those of other nationalities. When caught, the German or Frenchman, for instance, will become angry, want to fight, and claim he is innocent right up until the moment he is thrown into jail.

THE ITALIAN pickpocket, however, rarely gets angry when and if he is caught. He'll smile at his victim and expect him to see the joke of it all. He might even say, "That's just part of the game of living!"

Almost every policeman in Genova knows the story of the English tourist who was on his first trip to Italy. Somehow a police agent happened to be present when a pickpocket started to work. Later at the court hearing when the Englishman was asked to testify for the prosecution, he said: "It was most mystifying. I reached into my pocket for some change, and I found a hand inside!"

At Music Theater

When Irving Berlin's "Call Me Madam" opened last Friday at the Music Theater it marked another first in Music Theater's long record of firsts for summer theater.

Heading the cast as "Mrs. Sally Adams" is lovely June Carroll, talented star of Leonard Sillman's "New Faces of '52" both on the stage and in the motion picture version of that same hit.

Beginning Friday, July 9, through July 22 Cole Porter's great musical hit "Anything Goes" will be presented, including those five great song hits "You're The Top," "Blow Gabriel Blow," "All Through the Night, "Anything Goes," and "I Get a Kick Out of You," and starring two of America's brightest stars Toni Gilman, famous radio and television star, and Russell Arms, star of television's "Your Hit Parade."

At Chevy Chase

Chevy Chase presents the psychological mystery drama "Angel Street," beginning June 29 through July 4.

Clare Walsh will play the star role of Bella Manningham; Al Poole as Jack Manningham; Edgar Meyer as Inspector Rough; Helen Ross as Elizabeth, the housekeeper; and Nancy, the maid is played by Estelle Lutrell.

VA Speeds Method For Training For Veterans

Veterans administration has speeded the way for hundreds of disabled post-Korea veterans to begin training under the Korean GI bill before the forthcoming August 20 starting deadline.

The Korean GI bill deadline faces all veterans separated from active service before August 20, 1952. Those who left active service afterward have two years from separation in which to begin.

In the past, service-disabled veterans were required to take VA's vocational counseling before they were allowed to begin training under the Korean GI program. Reason was to find out whether they had need for training under another law created specifically for the disabled.

Under the new system, these veterans will be permitted to start Korean GI bill training before they undergo counseling, rather than wait until after it has been completed.

At the same time VA sends him his certificate of eligibility—authorizing him to begin Korean GI training—it will ask him to report on a specified date for vocational counseling. Meanwhile, he will be able to start his training before the GI cut-off date.

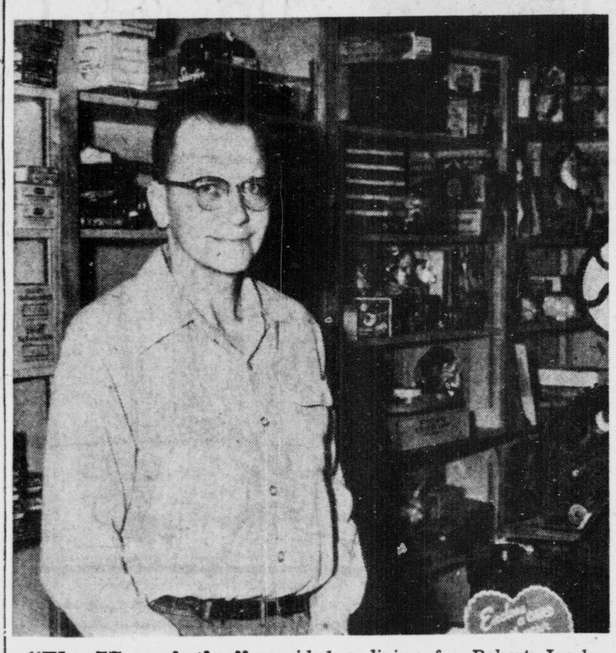
Newsstand Of The Week



"The 57 varieties" provided a living for Robert Jacobs, but when he took the plunge of operating his own variety store in Prospect Heights, he decided on 57 other varieties, and severed his interest in the famous group.

A resident of Prospect Heights for 3½ years, Bob saw an opportunity to go into business for himself when John Brennan moved the drugs of the former drug store across the street. Jacobs took over everything else, and is now adding a hobby line to his already large stock of newspapers, magazines, notions, toys, films and stationery.

TAX FACTS

By George Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

Problem: How to finance additional classroom facilities costing over $800,000 when the school district has only $450,000 in unused bonding power?

Answer: Use the $450,000 in bonding power to build a new field house and auditorium.

While that sounds silly enough to be ridiculous, the taxpayers' association of New Mexico vouches for the story.

The school district in New Mexico has a federal government installation (Los Alamos) in its area. Children of families at this federal installation attend the public school, resulting in overcrowding.

THE SCHOOL DISTRICT therefore applied for $816,000 in federal aid to provide additional classrooms. But the school district was advised that the federal government doesn't provide federal aid of this kind, unless the school district has reached its bonded debt limit. The school district still had $450,000 in unused bonding power.

So the school district proposed a $450,000 bond issue to build a new field house and auditorium, to clear the way for "free money" from Washington to provide classrooms.

THE PROPOSED bond issue was approved by the voters. The school district is going ahead with the construction of the new auditorium and field house. Bonding power is now exhausted. The final chapter in this story of Alice in Blunderland is still to be written, however, since the federal government has not yet acted on the request for $816,000 in federal aid to provide classrooms.

Lesson In English

By W. L. GORDON

Words Often Misused

"Desirable" is applied to that which one may well desire. "Desirous" is applied to the person who feels desire. Thus: "She was a desirable woman, and he was desirous of marrying her."

Do not say, "If either of the men want to go, tell them to talk to me." There are three errors in this statement. Say, "If either of the men wants to go, tell him to talk with me."

Do not say, "Not one in a dozen girls have ever taken me seriously." Say, "has ever taken me seriously." "One" is the singular subject.

"Contemptible" means worthy of contempt or scorn, as, "A contemptible act." "Contemptuous" means feeling contempt or scorn, as, "A brave man is contemptuous of a coward."

Do not say, "I'd rather buy it from you than he." Say, "I'd rather buy it from you than him."

Do not say, "These kind of apples make the best pie." Say, "This kind of apples makes the best pie."

Words Often Mispronounced

Solecism (breach of etiquette). Pronounce sol-e-siz'm, o as in on, e as in me unstressed, i as in it, accent first syllable.

Applicable. Accent first syllable, not the second.

Experiment. Pronounce the second e as in pet, not as in peer.

Leicester (England). Pronounce as though spelled "Lester."

Cavil (to raise frivolous objections). Pronounce kav-il, a as in at, i as in it, accent first syllable.

Pier. Pronounce as though spelled "peer."

Words Often Misspelled

Candor, or; slander, er. Dominoes, oes; dynamos, os. Shield ie; sheik, ei. "Mesdames" is the correct plural of "Madame." Accidentally, not accidently. Underrate; observe the two r's.

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Lambent; softly radiant. "Her eyes had a certain lambent quality about them."

Sapience; quality of being wise. (Pronounce the a as in say). "Sapience is acquired through observation, study and experience."

Inextricable; incapable of being disentangled. (Accent second syllable). "He found himself in difficulties that seemed inextricable."

Nugatory; worthless; useless. (Pronounce the u as in cube). "Advice becomes nugatory when given too freely or too often."

Vibrant; vibrating; pulsing. "The city was vibrant with life and energy."

Heinous; hatefully bad; atrocious; giving great offense. (Pronounce hay-nus). "He committed a heinous offense."

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

Sometimes we are sorry that the young have learned to read. We don't mind answering questions on world affairs or on what has happened to Little Abner. It is when they become too interested in some horrible crime or other that is graphically told in one of the metropolitan dailies that we get nervous.

Explaining some of the words can get downright embarrassing. And yet, we want them to be able to peruse a newspaper so they will know how to keep up on things. We have not taken to censoring the papers by cutting holes in it but it is an idea and we are considering it seriously. We like to think of the happy look on father's face as he comes to a big gaping hole in a story he is reading. It would almost be worth it. We are mean.

We read about a woman the other day who makes a business of entering and winning contests. According to this enterprising soul, she spends hours and hours in libraries and with home reference books in order to do her share of winning. In some fantastic number of years she has won around thirty-five hundred dollars. We started figuring out hours and wages and she seems to be working for about one-half cent an hour. It hardly seems worth it and we wonder how her family is eating these day.

If we ever thought about writing in twenty-five easy words or less about what we thought of McGoon's soup, we have happily given up. Our time, we hope, is more valuable than that. We shall just spend our time doing the word puzzlers that show us how very brilliant we are in the vocabulary. With a minimum of cheating, we always come out at least average. This is victory enough for us. Let the greedy ones rake in the money. Wonder when another contest starts?

The contests that we are particularly fond of are the ones that cause one to test oneself by answering a few questions honestly. These are the little dillys that show if you are happily married, a good mother, or a valuable member of your community. We work on these things with glee. And, honestly, oh very honestly, we are just about perfect in every line. This causes our head to swell and our halo to shine prettily. As long as this is so, and we are so good in so many lines, what makes our young misbehave, and our spouse to doubt our judgment? They must be all wrong somewhere.

Patience First Requisite For Growing Prize Peonies

Fifty-two years is a long time to raise peonies. It was in 1902 that Charles Klehm, a member of the firm of Klehm Nurseries, began to specialize in the culture of that flower. He is still at it.

His goal has been perfect peonies. He has had many, but the two choicest of the lot are probably the Emma Klehm Deep Rose named after his wife and the white peony named after himself.

It has meant many years of painstaking work. After a seed is sown, six to eight years will elapse before there is a flower and only one double specimen out of a hundred will probably result. The peony blossom season is short, but the Klehms prolong the sale by placing thousands of them in cold storage.

Mr. Klehm takes a lot of pride in the Klehm name and in addition to 50 acres on Algonquin road, is using the Klehm homestead along Railroad avenue in Arlington Heights for peony growing purposes. One hundred years ago that track of land was the home of the well known Klehm flowers. Mr. Klehm, after removal of greenhouses and several years of disuse, has returned it to flowers.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

The most sought after friends in the world are the cheerful people. People who are of a cheerful disposition live longer, accomplish more, are far happier, bear their burdens lightly, worry less, and in all ways are the most fortunate people on earth.

If you are not of a cheerful disposition, the problem of attaining cheerfulness should be foremost in your mind. Since it is an acquired trait, you can have it by changing your habits.

Cheerfulness always denotes unselfishness. Of all the people you know, think of just one who is cheerful and selfish at the same time. The two traits don't go together.

Cheerfulness denotes inner peace of mind. The cheerful person never has to run from himself. Almost always they can be happy with their own thoughts, contented with what they have.

CHEERFUL PEOPLE almost always do the best work over long periods of time. It was Carlysle who said, "Give me a man who sings at his work."

Cheerful people carry much the smaller burden of the world's worries, fears, hatreds and bitterness. Because they are inclined to see the brighter side of life; to have a natural love for and faith in people, life is full of happiness for them. Yet the world's successful people are generally of a cheerful disposition. They most often have faith in God and love their fellowmen.

Cheerful people are generally in better health; but when in ill health, their disposition makes their burden lighter to bear.

TO BE CHEERFUL we must eat well, sleep well, keep out every selfish thought, ting of jealousy, hatred or envy, and learn through constant watchfulness to love our fellowmen as much or more than ourselves. To be cheerful we must have faith in God, live moral lives, be able to see the humor in life's troubles, consider honor, decency and clean living above wealth, power, possessions. It was Christ who told us, "Seek ye first the kingdom of righteousness and all these things will be added unto you."

Arlington Plating Co. new home in Palatine, which it will occupy after the installation of new machinery. Denied the required zoning in Arlington Heights, the firm found a suitable location in the neighboring town. The plant is cooperatively owned by six of the workers engaged therein.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

FROM PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

One of the nicest treats that summer brings to us who live in the Chicago area, is the "straw hat" theatre. Because so much of our population is centered in the suburbs, where most of the theatres are located, and because our "loop," winter-season offering, for the past few years, has been so feeble, these delightful little summer theatres have become very popular with an increasing audience of playgoers. The plays presented are those of tried and true appeal and whether or not they have a "big name" star in them, are usually very well done.

No doubt, this sudden burst of enthusiasm for our summer theatres is due a great deal to our having recently seen the first play of the season at the Tenthouse theatre in Highland Park, a polished presentation of "The Four Poster." Ever since Audrey called, a few weeks ago, asking us to be their guests on opening night, I have been eagerly anticipating a gay evening at the theatre with our good friends. However, when the evening arrived hot, humid and hopeless and, from a deep, cool tub of water, I faced the prospect of climbing into my one "party," maternity outfit (purchased in the spring), and pushing my poor, old feet into high-heeled shoes, I toyed with the idea of suddenly becoming ill and unable to go. Naturally, my conscience wouldn't let me do such a thing — besides it would have meant getting out of the tub anyway to call Audrey and Mrs. Conder, so I just groaned, pulled myself out of the bath, and got dressed.

AS PLANNED, we met Audrey and Steve at the box office shortly before 8:30. Audrey's baby is due just about a month after mine, so we had lots to chat about before the "first curtain." The happy discovery that we both had trouble with swelling legs and feet had just been made, when the lights dimmed and nudges from our husbands indicated that we would have to wait until between acts to discuss each other's remedies.

It's interesting to note that "The Four Poster" was first produced in a summer theatre, and to everyone's surprise, was an immediate success. Delighted audiences having proclaimed it a hit, the play opened the following fall in New York, at the Ethel Barrymore theatre, with Jessica Tandy and Hume Cronyn playing the leads, and Jose Ferrer directing.

The play opens in the year 1890 — in the bedroom of a young, Victorian and just married couple, Agnes and Michael. The story of their life together, from that night to thirty-five years later, takes place in this room, in which each piece of furniture remains unchanged throughout the play, including the beautiful, old four poster bed. For the most part, the incidents in the lives of this devoted husband and wife are highly amusing, to the point of hilarity: Michael repairs to the four poster with what, from all appearances, seems to be labor pains, at just about the time Agnes is to deliver their first child; later in the play, father finds a bourbon bottle well hidden in the bureau drawer of his teen-age son and, while ranting and raving at poor mother, becomes so distraught over the discovery that he decides to have a drink from it — to his utter dismay, he gulps a big swig of castor oil (young Michael had hidden the dosages his mother had left for him to take when he was ill over a year before this fateful night!).

OF COURSE, the natural problems and trials of raising a family are included in the play, giving it a human and heart-warming touch. The appeal of "The Four Poster" is unique, in that any couple can see some of their own experiences depicted, whether they are newly married, or in the midst of raising teen-agers, or have been married for thirty years.

The leads in the Tenthouse production were ably and convincingly played by professionals, Barnard Hughes and Helen Stenborg — a fine husband and wife team, the costuming was lovely and authentic, and whoever was responsible for the makeup did a wonderful job of adding age and not just white powder and glasses.

Bob and I enjoyed every bit of this play — maybe because we own a "four poster" too.

My love,
Patty.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. When writing a social letter, is it proper to close the letter with "Respectfully yours"?

A. No. This form is used only when writing business letters, or when an employee is writing to his employer. If the person is of equal social position, it would be better to close the letter with "Sincerely yours."

Q. Does it show poor taste to use artificial flowers around the home?

A. No; they are popular, and some people even use them for dinner table decoration.

Q. How should one remove a piece of bone from the mouth while at the table, with a fork, a spoon, or the napkin?

A. None of these things is proper. Use the thumb and forefinger, as inconspicuously as possible, and lay the particle on the edge of the plate.

Q. When giving a graduation gift, should it be presented at the exercises?

A. No; the gift should be given anytime during the month preceding the graduation exercises.

Q. When a woman is introducing herself socially, should she say, "I am Miss Brown," or, "I am Sally Brown"?

A. The correct form is, "I am Sally Brown."

Q. If I receive a telephone call while entertaining a guest, should I explain at once to the person calling that I have a visitor and cannot talk?

A. If the call is unimportant, you can explain and offer to call back later. If, however, the call is important, it takes precedence over the entertainment of your guest.

Q. Is it all right for a woman to introduce her husband's mother to her friends as, "This is my mother-in-law"?

A. It would be better to say, "This is Bob's mother."

Arlington Heights Safety Campaign

COMMON SENSE SPEED

"You don't need a slide rule to figure out a safe speed. All you need is common sense!"

Judge William F. Neumann, Arlington Heights Police Magistrate, had this to say about speed, a subject that's one of the main topics of discussion around town this month. Reason for the increased interest in speed is the Arlington Heights Lions Club current speed control program which is being conducted in cooperation with the National Safety Council.

"It doesn't make sense to me," Judge Neumann said, "to drive at a speed of 45 miles per hour when prevailing conditions make such a speed obviously unsafe — even though there may be a sign in the area which states: Speed Limit 45. Speed limits merely set the maximum speeds under ideal conditions."

The Judge advised motorists to bear this fact in mind as they vacation in unfamiliar parts of the country.

"Even in areas in which there are stated or posted speed limits," he said, "a motorist is liable to arrest whenever he's driving too fast for prevailing conditions, though he may be traveling well under the posted speed limit."

The following check-list to motorists as a guide in determining a speed "safe for conditions," should be studied.

1. Drive at a speed that will enable you to stop in the assured clear distance ahead.
2. Slow down before you get to curves and intersections.
3. At night, drive at the speed which will let you stop within your headlight range.

Trailer Organization Proposes Assessments To Aid School Funds

Financial aid to public schools through voluntary monthly assessment of trailer park residents is being considered by members of the Lake county mobile homes association.

Gus Teski, owner of the Midway trailer park, said there is common talk among the members of a $5 a month assessment for each trailer.

Francis E. Murphy, owner of Shamrock park corroborated the statement, but said that in his opinion the assessment should be $10 instead of $5.

Should the voluntary action be placed into effect, upwards of $10,000 a year could be collected from some of the larger parks which would aid materially grade school districts.

Electronic Machines To Compute Taxes This Year

This year for the first time Cook County tax rates on 1,200,000 parcels of real estate are going to be computed by eletcronic business machines.

Cook County Clerk Richard J. Daley said Friday that the machines will do work that has been by hand since 1872. Daley pointed out that the new system will make it easier for the county to meet tax deadlines. Tax rates will be computed at least 30 days ahead of present schedules, he said. And the use of machines will eliminate the possibility of error always present when millions of figures are processed manually.

Help To Blind

On behalf of the Parents of the Blind of the Northwest suburban area, I wish to thank Paddock Publications for their help in publishing articles regarding the need of a braille classroom for our blind children.

Largely because of this publicity, we have obtained a classroom in Wheeling, to begin this September, and we have secured our teacher, also.

Especially my thanks to Mr. Paddock Sr., for his counsel, his advice, his cooperation and help. It has been a pleasure working with him.

Better Than Ever

I've been hearing and reading since the advent of television, that "Movies are better than ever". From the results of the ad you ran for me yesterday for a bike and a tricycle, I'd say "Paddock Publications are better than ever".

Both were sold before 2 o'clock and at least ten people benefitted —the two children they were bought for, these two children's four parents, my husband and I, and our two children.

I should have said eleven. Enclosed is check for $1.00 to cover ad.

Lack Of Water

With grass seed costing from $2.50 to $5.00 per pound and then tell a home owner who is trying to landscape his new home and develop a good lawn that his water supply must be restricted, as has already happened this year in Mount Prospect, is intolerable to think about. Other suburbs have already hinted that again this summer, a water shortage is inevitable for their home owners.

It seems the public ownership of the water supply for our local suburbs is a complete flop. The residents are all willing and do now pay for the water they do or do not use. If a private concern was supplying the water service, they would anticipate the water demand and build a reserve supply. They pipe oil and gas thousands of miles to meet the demand of users.

With an unlimited supply in our great Lake Michigan, less than 30 miles away, no end of water could be obtained to supply our neighbors every want. Who is asleep? This condition is not unusual. It has been an annual affair for several years. It is time for home owners to demand this problem be solved and at once by turning it over to private operators who would produce.

Many believe that buying a house in the country insures you the opportunity to satisfy your yen for gardening. This is one of the outstanding hoaxes perpetrated on the buying public. Before the prospective buyer signs on the dotted line, he should demand that his water rights be guaranteed and that at all times no limits on the use of water be issued.

It seems that some catastrophe must occur before anything will be done. Beware, lack of water is a fire hazard. I know of subdivisions where this spring it has been impossible to get water on the 2nd floor of the homes, during afternoon and evening hours.

Anyone interested in gardening should check the availability of water before making a deal for a new home. With today's prices for landscaping material, grass seed, shrubs, trees,, evergreens and flowering plants that are needed to make a garden, an average home owner cannot afford to invest in such material and then be denied sufficient water to assure their survival.

Explains Vote

During the periods that I have served the village of Palatine, I have endeavored to handle public matters to the best interests of the taxpayers, devoid of favoritism or special interests.

Accepting the opinion of a fellow member of the Palatine village board who is connected with a reputable engineering firm, I joined the other village board members in voting "aye" to a motion to return to a developer the cash bond of $10,000 that he had deposited in the Palatine National Bank as security for the proper construction of roads within Orchard Hills.

I was informed by the acting mayor a few minutes before he called the meeting to order that he and the second member of my committee had inspected the roads and that the work had been properly completed, which I had insisted should be performed before I would vote for the return of the bond money.

When a member of the board who had previously sent word he would not attend, made his apprarance just long enough to vote on the release of the bond, I became suspicious and the following day I made my own inspection, finding that much of the remedial repair work had not been completed.

I am making this statement as an explanation of my "aye" vote, which would have been "naye" if I had been acquainted with all of the facts.

It is no secret that Paltine taxpayers have had to spend a lot of money on repairs of roads in Palanois Park and other places that would have been saved if the village road specifications a few years ago had been what they are today.

It is my belief that the roads in Orchard Hills will need frequent repairs and that our experience in Palanois Park will be partially repeated in Orchard Hills.

I am supposed to be chairman of streets and drainage committee. I was not consulted regarding the "official" inspection of the Orchard Hills roads. As far as I know, our local engineer has never given his O.K. to those roads.

In order that no mistakes are made in Fair Grounds Park, engineering plans for road bed and curbs were prepared. I think that the curbs were correctly installed. I can find fault with the road bed because at places it is not in proper alignment with the curb.

I hope that the corrections will be made. If not, their acceptance by the board will be over my "naye."

My purpose in publishing this letter is in explanation of my vote, which I feel was secured by misrepresentation. I am also in doubt that the proper procedure for the release of the $10,000 was followed.

A Step Backward

It is too bad that the town of Good Neighbors (Arlington Heights) is to be known as the town of backward people. Everywhere throughout the country cities and towns have tried one-way streets and found them successful. Arlington Heights should have been one of the first towns to do this, due to the fact our streets were built in the horse and buggy days and have never been widened to keep up with the modern day and age.

Now the expense of widening would be prohibitive and one-way streets are the solution. Accident prevention alone is a big factor. Those few who want to revert to the horse and buggy days, causing confusion and possible death and disaster should be asked by the police department to direct traffic the first two weeks, be responsible for accidents and reinburse the tax payers for the signs and traffic markers the village bought when they were on the right track.

It would be good for the community if Paddock Publications would advise the taxpayers just who makes these stupid decisions. It is about time that those who use the streets have a say in the matter instead of those that think they may be losing a dollar or two through the convenience of the majority of our townspeople.

We have a very efficient police force but how long can they remain that way when they are bogged down with traffic problems?

The Missing 30

I don't know exactly how many parking spaces have been eliminated by the return of two way streets to Arlington Heights, but I suggest you motorists count "the missing 30" spaces along Davis street, between Evergreen and Vail, and along Vail from Davis to Campbell.

I'm also awaiting authentic word from someone about the lack of any effort to secure off-street parking for shoppers or commuters other than "the easy way out" of cutting down trees, digging up grass, and destroying Arlington's greatest asset? How about the southwest corner of Vail and Davis? Can this be used for parking? How about the northeast corner of Dunton and Sigwalt? Can this be used for parking?

Anyone wishing to find out how other towns have done the job need travel only to Des Plaines for facts, figures and data. How about the straight dope for "the uninformed?"
